Kennedy Denounces Russia For Scrapping Moratorium On Nuclear Testing; Calls For High Level Conferences

By JOHN M. HIGHTOWER
WASHINGTON (AP)—President Kennedy set up emergency conferences today with top diplomatic, military and congressional leaders to consider urgent resumption of U.S. nuclear weapons testing in view of the Soviet Union's bombshell decision to scrap the three-year-old test moratorium.

Kennedy issued a statement denouncing the Soviet step as a blow to worldwide hopes for disarmament and a "threat to the entire world by increasing the dangers of a thermonuclear holocaust."

CALLS DEAN HOME

He called Ambassador Arthur M. Dean home from nuclear test

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Kennedy has assured the world that Western Allies, abhorring the risk of atomic devastation, will erect no barricade to the peaceful solution of the peril-laden Berlin crisis. He said he cannot be wholly optimistic about prospects for a negotiated settlement.

But the West, he asserted, is prepared to use all available channels toward a solution that will guarantee West Berliners "the right to live out their lives in a way of their own choosing."

In the meantime, he said everyone—not excepting former Vice President Richard M. Nixon—should keep politics out of foreign policy.

Kennedy announced he was calling retired Gen. Lucius D. Clay from civilian life to serve as his personal representative and add "to our resources of judgment and action" in Berlin.

Clay will exchange temporarily his $150,000 job as board chairman of Continental Can Co. for the rank of ambassador on his return to Berlin.

ban treaty negotiations with the Soviet Union at Geneva.

And word went out from the White House that in the next 24 hours the President wanted policy meetings with his defense, atomic energy and State Department advisers and with congressional chiefs.

"The termination of the moratorium on nuclear testing by the Soviet unilateral decision," the President said, "leaves the United States under the necessity of deciding what its own national interests require."

"TURN FOR WORSE"
The statement did not forecast specific U.S. counter action. But it was learned that the administration has plans ready and preparations made for a quick resumption of testing if Kennedy gives the order.

The Soviet move, coming in the midst of the Berlin crisis, struck top Washington officials as a highly significant turn for the worse in Soviet policy toward the rest of the world with these immediate implications:

Special Broadcast On WGCT Tonight

WGCT will broadcast a special program prepared by the Pennsylvania Department of Revenue, Bureau of Motor Vehicles, this evening at 7:15 o'clock.

The program, entitled "Radar, An Attitude," will feature on-the-spot comments by Pennsylvania motorists and state policemen during a recent test of the radar speed control process on the state's highways.

The 15-minute broadcast was prepared in order to better acquaint motorists with the radar operation which will become effective throughout the state on Friday.

Premier Khrushchev gave the go-ahead to his scientists to test new weapons ranging up to monster bombs with an explosive force of 100 million tons of TNT—5,000 times more powerful than the bomb dropped on Hiroshima in World War II.

U.S. IS BLAMED

The Soviets blamed the United States and its Allies for their decision to resume nuclear testing. "It is an open secret," said a 6,000-word government statement, "that the United States is standing at the threshold of carrying out underground nuclear explosions and only waits for the first suitable pretext to start them."

Because of that, and because France has exploded some bombs the statement said, the Soviet Union has decided to test new bombs and to add to the world-crushing nuclear arsenal it claims it already has.

The statement linked the government's decision to the Berlin crisis as well.

"The Soviet government has been compelled to take this step, whose significance it fully appreciates, under the pressure of the international situation created by the imperialist countries," it said.

"The policy of the leading NATO powers—the United States, Britain, France and the Federal (West) German republic—and of this aggressive bloc as a whole, leaves the Soviet Union no other choice."

The statement appeared to be the death knell for the Geneva test ban talks after 338 sessions begun in October, 1958.

Past state presidents serving as an advisory board will attend a luncheon September 8 at 1 o'clock at the lodge. Committee meetings will be held September 9 from 9 to 9:30 a.m. and the grand exalted ruler will speak in the lodge room at 10:30 a.m. September 9 just prior to the workshop.

Country Club Buys Eagle Hotel Pillars

Demolition of the "Adams House," formerly the Eagle Hotel, and the Eberhart Apartments is about half completed and, at the rate the workmen have been tearing down the building, the lot may be cleared in another week.

The white pillars which had graced the Eagle Hotel porch for more than half a century have been sold to the Dillsburg Country Club.

Borough police this morning blocked off a portion of N. Washington St. when a section of the building fell onto the sidewalk.

Brazilian Troops Begin Action In Force Against Goulart's Gaucho Backers

By EDWARD T. BUTLER
RIO DE JANEIRO, Brazil (AP)—Brazil's interim government today ordered units of the army, navy and air force into action to subdue southern supporters of leftist Vice President Joao Goulart.

Goulart claims he is the rightful president of Brazil in view of the resignation of President Janio Quadros. The wavering national Congress finally has voted to accept him as president but has not decided how much power he should have.

A source close to the Air Ministry said military planes left Porto Alegre, capital of Goulart's southern stronghold, to escort him to some place in Brazil and aircraft loyal to the government had been ordered to patrol the frontier and intercept him.

ACTION IN FORCE

A communique from the military-dominated National Telecommunications Commission Council said units of the army, air force and navy were taking part in an "action in force" against Rio Grande do Sul, Brazil's southernmost state.

In defiance, the "Voice of Legality," a chain of Rio Grande do Sul radio stations, announced that all civilians in the state had been called to arms. Porto Alegre, the state capital, was reported surrounded by trenches and barricades.

Rio Grande do Sul's governor, Leonel Brizola, is Goulart's brother-in-law. Gov. Brizola and Gen. Jose Machado Lopes, head of the army in the state, have proclaimed their support of the vice president.

LOPES DEFIES ORDER

Machado Lopes Wednesday de-

fied an order from acting President Ranieri Mazzilli relieving him of command of the 80,000-man southern army, considered one of the best-trained and equipped of Brazil's four armies. Only the army in Rio de Janeiro is larger.

In addition, Rio Grande do Sul is the home of fight-loving gauchos—cowboys—who roam the flat wheat-growing and cattle-raising state.

Apparently the only air force unit—or most of it—deserted Brizola and Machado Lopes, however.

HAS NO NAVY

The southern state has no navy. But Brizola sank three barges in the entrance to Porto Alegre's inland harbor, temporarily blocking it, when Brazilian warships were reported en route there four days ago.

Headquarters of the army ordered into action against the Goulart-supporting state, is at Sao Paulo, nearly 600 miles northeast of Porto Alegre.

GIVE NO SUPPORT

The Brazilian War Ministry said neither state is supporting Rio Grande do Sul, however.

Porto Alegre has a population of about 600,000 and the state has about three million people. It has few industries, but in a civil war might draw supplies from neighboring Argentina and Uruguay.

The wealthy former gaucho, Goulart, 42, who is the center of Brazil's presidential storm, left Panama for Buenos Aires. He said he would make stops at Lima, Peru, and in Montevideo, Uruguay.

E. German Army Loses 56 Men To West In 19 Days; Harsh Measures Continue

By GEORGE BOULTWOOD
BERLIN (AP)—Fifty-six members of the East German armed forces have fled to the West since the Communists sealed the border in Berlin 19 days ago, West Berlin police reported today.

Most bolted while building barriers of barbed wire and concrete to stop other refugees.

The latest member of the Communist police to desert swam Berlin's Teltow Canal Wednesday. Police reported gun fire was directed at him, but the Red gunners missed. They had killed two others trying to swim the canal.

DRIVER SWIMS

A driver hauling barbed wire for the fence along the canal also managed to swim across while the attention of guards was distracted. The pillars of a broken down bridge gave him cover.

The Communist press began whipping up enthusiasm for Friday's visit by Soviet cosmonaut Gherman Titov. East Berliners were ordered to put out flags on their homes, in the streets and on factories.

The Communist press also disclosed the formation of fanatical youth squads "to keep order." These semimilitary groups are composed of members of the "Free German Youth," the organization's paper reported.

VIOLENCE GROWS

Reports have reached the West in recent days of the youth groups ripping down television antennas tuned to the West, beating up critics of the regime and denouncing others to the police.

East German authorities also announced a campaign to prevent their people from seeing the West on television. Jail sentences are also decreed for East Germans who invite friends to see TV from West Germany.

Those who receive the programs on their sets can easily be spotted by the direction in which their antennas are pointed. For one station near Munich, special vertical antennas must be erected.

RAISE SYMBOL

Today the East Germans raised their hammer and compass banner on top of the Brandenburg Gate, the symbol of divided Germany.

For years, West Germans have been wearing tiny reproductions of the gate on their lapels to demonstrate against the division of their country and to show their close links with Berlin. But the gate itself lies inside East Berlin.

About 13,000 West Berliners who earn their incomes from the Communists were faced with financial ruin by a new West Berlin ruling. The city will no longer accept their inflated Communist currency at face value.

For 12 years, West Berlin has made up the difference between the Communist money paid to the 13,000 and the hard Western currency they needed to pay their bills. It takes five East marks to buy one West mark on the open market.

Thirteen Senators Sign Resolution Calling For Nuclear Weapons Tests

WASHINGTON (AP)—Thirteen senators teamed up today as sponsors of a resolution urging resumption of U.S. nuclear weapons tests in stern response to the Soviet Union's action in smashing the moratorium on such trials.

The proposal was introduced by Sen. Thomas J. Dodd, D-Conn., as the Senate opened its session in a mood of icy anger over the threatening gesture from Moscow.

HOPE FOR AGREEMENT

Mansfield said that while the West is supposed to have won a psychological victory in this case, he hopes the Soviets will alter their course and that "somehow, some way, an agreement can be reached."

"The sham and hypocrisy of the Soviet Union stands out in bold relief before all the world," Kuchel told the Senate. "I urge the government of the United States to demonstrate to the world now that this sham and hypocrisy compel this country, in the interest of its own security, to perfect its own nuclear arsenal."

Sen. Stuart Symington, D-Mo., a former Air Force secretary, said he is worried "about the way we talk about Soviet Russia's resumption of testing."

Charge 2 Men In Wishing Well Theft

Paul Bolin, 36, and James Hoffman, 50, both of the rear of 137½ Breckenridge St., were arrested by state police Wednesday afternoon and placed in the county jail on charges of larceny of "$15 to $20" from the wishing well at the Horse 'n' Buggy Museum along the Harrisburg Rd.

Both pleaded innocent at the arraignment before Justice of the Peace Anna B. Thompson, and then were committed to jail in default of bail pending a hearing Friday before the justice.

JOEL MILLER CONVICTED IN MORALS CASE

Hampton was found innocent on both charges. The jury after two hours deliberation delivered a sealed verdict at noon which was opened about 1:30 p.m.

Joel King Miller, Mt. Holly Springs, Wednesday afternoon was found guilty by an Adams County jury on a morals charge. This noon another jury was deliberating on the guilt of John Thomas Hampton, Aspers R. 1, on a charge of aggravated assault and battery and robbery.

The jury hearing the Miller case retired to consider its verdict about 2 o'clock Wednesday afternoon and the jury hearing the Hampton case began receiving testimony at that time.

At 4:30 o'clock Wednesday afternoon the Miller jury returned to the courtroom to ask details of the location of various orchards in the area where the offense is alleged to have occurred. After the court had described the locations, the jury retired and returned ten minutes later with the guilty verdict.

HAMPTON CASE

Hampton is charged with striking Albert P. Heare, 66, Bendersville, and taking a wrist watch from him. Testimony of various witnesses was that Heare came to the John Pitzer migrant labor camp, near Aspers, then left there via a road through a woods to Bendersville. A number of witnesses told of Hampton and Willie Jones, Aspers, walking along the same road on which Heare had left the campsite. Jones held that he was about 80 feet from Heare and turning to go back when Hampton passed him, circled Heare, struck the Bendersville resident and knocked him down, then struck him with a large rock, after which Hampton took the wrist watch off Heare's arm. Jones held that, when Hampton looked up at him and started to

COUNTY MAN ONE DRIVER IN $17,000 CRASH

A Gettysburg R. 3 resident was involved in a two-truck accident about eight miles north of Chambersburg on Rt. 333 Wednesday morning. State police of the Chambersburg substation said damage totaled about $17,000 in the mishap.

They said that Wayne Bowman, 24, Orrstown, who was traveling north on Rt. 333 in a 1956 International truck, had slowed down to permit another vehicle in front of him to make a right-hand turn. When Bowman applied his brakes, police said, he lost control of his truck, skidding across into the left hand of traffic.

About the same time, police said, Jack Settle, 36, of Gettysburg R. 3, driving south on Rt. 333, came around a curve in a 1960 GMC tractor-trailer and the two vehicles collided.

Police said there was $2,000 damage to Bowman's truck and $15,000 to the Settle tractor.

Settle was removed to the Chambersburg Hospital where he was treated for extensive lacerations of the scalp, right side and elbow.

W. N. SHANKS TRANSFERRED TO BALTIMORE

William Neal Shanks, 26, of Littlestown R. D., who was recaptured at gunpoint by Maryland State Police after escaping from the Carroll County jail in Westminster Saturday, was transferred to a Baltimore City jail on Monday. Westminster barracks of the Maryland State Police reported.

Shanks was awaiting trial on charges involving two bank robberies at Uniontown and Union Mills when he escaped from the Westminster jail Saturday at 6:10 p.m. with another prisoner, Leslie Hayes, 22, of Sykesville, after they overpowered a 70-year-old turnkey, Norman Huttling of Westminster, and armed themselves with a pistol and a black-jack.

State Police Sergeant Frank Badger captured the pair single-handedly one hour later as they were crossing a field to the Western Maryland Railway tracks near the Tannery Rd. Maryland State Police said Sunday night that they would request transfer of the accused bank robber to a more secure jail while he is awaiting trial.

At the same time another committee of the general Halloween committee, working on a list of proposed parade prizes, contemplates the distribution of more than $1,000 in awards to those participating in the parade. Beginning with the listing used last year, the committee made a number of changes which increase principally the number and amounts of awards to the youngsters participating in the parade.

The girl with the highest number of votes will be "queen," the remainder her attendants in the annual parade.

Also scheduled as one of the Halloween functions will be the annual painting contest by school children. The best paintings in the contest, based on a Halloween theme, will be placed in store windows throughout the town.

MOSCOW (AP)—The Soviet Union today scrapped the three year moratorium on nuclear testing with a threatening warning to the West and a plea for understanding from the nonaligned nations the Kremlin is wooing.

Premier Khrushchev gave the go-ahead to his scientists to test new weapons ranging up to monster bombs with an explosive force of 100 million tons of TNT—5,000 times more powerful than the bomb dropped on Hiroshima in World War II.

WGCT will broadcast a special program prepared by the Pennsylvania Department of Revenue, Bureau of Motor Vehicles, this evening at 7:15 o'clock.

The program, entitled "Radar, An Attitude," will feature on-the-spot comments by Pennsylvania motorists and state policemen during a recent test of the radar speed control process on the state's highways.

TAX MEASURE HAS SUPPORT OF SCHOOLMEN

Abolition of the present, new occupation assessment would probably force school districts into levying a wage tax, Upper Adams school officials told the Adams County Commissioners Wednesday afternoon at a meeting held in the court house.

The session was held to help the commissioners make a final decision on the future of the newly approved occupation assessment which brought numerous complaints after notification was given approximately 20,000 counties of their new assessments.

Assistant County Superintendent of Schools M. Francis Coulson told the commissioners that he believes the public generally will find the new assessment more equitable and useful "if they only give it a chance."

LEGAL CHECK

There were indications that the public may be forced to give it at least a year's trial as far as the school boards are concerned. There was some question whether the commissioners can make a change until August 1962 in the overall assessment schedule they adopted this July. A thorough check on the law is scheduled during the coming week with the commissioners to receive a full report on that aspect by next Wednesday's meeting.

Coulson held the new assessment, which replaces an assessment schedule in use for more than 75 years, will lower taxes for some county residents. A housewife assessed at $50 under the old schedule would pay a $15 tax on a 300-mill levy, such as is presently in effect in some school districts. Under the new assessment schedule the housewife, still with a $50 assessment, would probably pay about $5 taxes under the millage that would probably be used in connection with the new assessment. BERLIN (AP)—Fifty-six members of the East German armed forces have fled to the West since the Communists sealed the border in Berlin 19 days ago, West Berlin police reported today.

Most bolted while building barriers of barbed wire and concrete to stop other refugees.

The latest member of the Communist police to desert swam Berlin's Teltow Canal Wednesday. Police reported gun fire was directed at him, but the Red gunners missed. They had killed two others trying to swim the canal.

DRIVER SWIMS

A driver hauling barbed wire for the fence along the canal also managed to swim across while the attention of guards was distracted. The pillars of a broken down bridge gave him cover.

The Communist press began whipping up enthusiasm for Friday's visit by Soviet cosmonaut Gherman Titov. East Berliners were ordered to put out flags on their homes, in the streets and on factories.

The Communist press also disclosed the formation of fanatical youth squads "to keep order." These semimilitary groups are composed of members of the "Free German Youth," the organization's paper reported.

VIOLENCE GROWS

Reports have reached the West in recent days of the youth groups ripping down television antennas tuned to the West, beating up critics of the regime and denouncing others to the police.

East German authorities also announced a campaign to prevent their people from seeing the West on television. Jail sentences are also decreed for East Germans who invite friends to see TV from West Germany.

Those who receive the programs on their sets can easily be spotted by the direction in which their antennas are pointed. For one station near Munich, special vertical antennas must be erected.

Today the East Germans raised their hammer and compass banner on top of the Brandenburg Gate, the symbol of divided Germany.

For years, West Germans have been wearing tiny reproductions of the gate on their lapels to demonstrate against the division of their country and to show their close links with Berlin. But the gate itself lies inside East Berlin.

About 13,000 West Berliners who earn their incomes from the Communists were faced with financial ruin by a new West Berlin ruling. The city will no longer accept their inflated Communist currency at face value.

For 12 years, West Berlin has made up the difference between the Communist money paid to the 13,000, and the hard Western currency they needed to pay their bills. It takes five East marks to buy one West mark on the open market.

Brazilian Troops Begin Action In Force Against Goulart's Gaucho Backers

By EDWARD T. BUTLER

RIO DE JANEIRO, Brazil (AP)—Brazil's interim government today ordered units of the army, navy and air force into action to subdue southern supporters of leftist Vice President Joao Goulart.

Goulart claims he is the rightful president of Brazil in view of the resignation of President Janio Quadros. The wavering national Congress finally has voted to accept him as president but has not decided how much power he should have.

A source close to the Air Ministry said military planes left Porto Alegre, capital of Goulart's southern stronghold, to escort him to some place in Brazil and aircraft loyal to the government had been ordered to patrol the frontier and intercept him.

ACTION IN FORCE

A communique from the military-dominated National Telecommunications Commission Council said units of the army, air force and navy were taking part in an "action in force" against Rio Grande do Sul, Brazil's southernmost state.

In defiance, the "Voice of Legality," a chain of Rio Grande do Sul radio stations, announced that all civilians in the state had been called to arms. Porto Alegre, the state capital, was reported surrounded by trenches and barricades.

Rio Grande do Sul's governor, Leonel Brizola, is Goulart's brother-in-law. Gov. Brizola and Gen. Jose Machado Lopes, head of the army in the state, have proclaimed their support of the vice president.

LOPES DEFIES ORDER

Machado Lopes Wednesday de-

fied an order from acting President Ranieri Mazzilli relieving him of command of the 60,000-man southern army, considered one of the best-trained and equipped of Brazil's four armies. Only the army in Rio de Janeiro is larger.

In addition, Rio Grande do Sul is the home of fight-loving gauchos—cowboys—who roam the flat wheat-growing and cattle-raising state.

Apparently the only air force unit—or most of it—deserted Brizola and Machado Lopes, however, HAS NO NAVY

The southern state has no navy. But Brizola sank three barges in the entrance to Porto Alegre's inland harbor, temporarily blocking it, when Brazilian warships were reported en route there four days ago.

Headquarters of the army ordered into action against the Goulart-supporting state, is at Sao Paulo, nearly 600 miles northeast of Porto Alegre.

GIVE NO SUPPORT

The Brazilian War Ministry said neither state is supporting Rio Grande do Sul, however.

Porto Alegre has a population of about 600,000 and the state has about three million people. It has few industries, but in a civil war might draw supplies from neighboring Argentina and Uruguay.

The wealthy former gaucho, Goulart, 42, who is the center of Brazil's presidential storm, left Panama for Buenos Aires. He said he would make stops at Lima, Peru, and in Montevideo, Uruguay.

Thirteen Senators Sign Resolution Calling For Nuclear Weapons Tests

WASHINGTON (AP)—Thirteen senators teamed up today as sponsors of a resolution urging resumption of U.S. nuclear weapons tests in stern response to the Soviet Union's action in smashing the moratorium on such trials.

The proposal was introduced by Sen. Thomas J. Dodd, D-Conn., as the Senate opened its session in a mood of icy anger over the threatening gesture from Moscow.

Sen. Thomas H. Kuchel, R-Calif., the assistant GOP leader, spoke the views of many of his colleagues in accusing Soviet Premier Khrushchev of "sham and hypocrisy."

"The sham and hypocrisy of the Soviet Union stands out in bold relief before all the world," Kuchel told the Senate. "I urge the government of the United States to demonstrate to the world now that this sham and hypocrisy compel this country, in the interest of its own security, to perfect its own nuclear arsenal."

Sen. Stuart Symington, D-Mo., a former Air Force secretary, said he is worried "about the way we talk about Soviet Russia's resumption of testing."

Charge 2 Men In Wishing Well Theft

Paul Bolin, 36, and James Hoffman, 50, both of the rear of 137 1/2 Breckenridge St., were arrested by state police Wednesday afternoon and placed in the county jail on charges of larceny of "$15 to $20" from the wishing well at the Horse 'n' Buggy Museum along the Harrisburg Rd.

Both pleaded innocent at the arraignment before Justice of the Peace Anna B. Thompson, and then were committed to jail in default of bail pending a hearing Friday before the justice.

JOEL MILLER CONVICTED IN MORALS CASE

Hampton was found innocent on both charges. The jury after two hours deliberation delivered a sealed verdict at noon which was opened about 1:30 p.m.

Joel King Miller, Mt. Holly Springs, Wednesday afternoon was found guilty by an Adams County jury on a morals charge. This noon another jury was deliberating on the guilt of John Thomas Hampton, Aspers R. 1, on a charge of aggravated assault and battery and robbery.

The jury hearing the Miller case retired to consider its verdict about 2 o'clock Wednesday afternoon and the jury hearing the Hampton case began receiving testimony at that time.

At 4:30 o'clock Wednesday afternoon the Miller jury returned to the courtroom to ask details of the location of various orchards in the area where the offense is alleged to have occurred. After the court had described the locations, the jury retired and returned ten minutes later with the guilty verdict.

HAMPTON CASE

Hampton is charged with striking Albert P. Heare, 66, Bendersville, and taking a wrist watch from him. Testimony of various witnesses was that Heare came to the John Pitzer migrant labor camp, near Aspers, then left there via a road through a woods to Bendersville. A number of witnesses told of Hampton and Willie Jones, Aspers, walking along the same road on which Heare had left the campsite. Jones held that he was about 80 feet from Heare and turning to go back when Hampton passed him, circled Heare, struck the Bendersville resident and knocked him down, then struck him with a large rock, after which Hampton took the wrist watch off Heare's arm. Jones held that, when Hampton looked up at him and started to Ernest Shriver, 22, Emmitsburg, was treated Wednesday for a laceration of the scalp and superficial cuts of the back inflicted when he struck his head on the bottom of a swimming pool.

HOPE FOR AGREEMENT

Mansfield said that while the West is supposed to have won a psychological victory in this case, he hopes the Soviets will alter their course and that "somehow, some way, an agreement can be reached."

"The sham and hypocrisy of the Soviet Union stands out in bold relief before all the world," Kuchel told the Senate. "I urge the government of the United States to demonstrate to the world now that this sham and hypocrisy compel this country, in the interest of its own security, to perfect its own nuclear arsenal."

S. Luther Baltzley, 68, of 568 Elm St., a former Adams County commissioner and a fruitgrower, died Wednesday night about 9:25 o'clock at the Warner Hospital where he had been admitted last Thursday.

He was one of the county's largest and most prominent fruitgrowers until he sold his farms and moved to Gettysburg 12 years ago.

He had served as an Adams County commissioner for two terms, from 1932 to 1940. When first elected in November, 1931, he was the lone Republican on the board of commissions.

COUNTY MAN ONE DRIVER IN $17,000 CRASH

A Gettysburg R. 3 resident was involved in a two-truck accident about eight miles north of Chambersburg on Rt. 333 Wednesday morning. State police of the Chambersburg substation said damage totaled about $17,000 in the mishap.

They said that Wayne Bowman, 24, Orrstown, who was traveling north on Rt. 333 in a 1966 International truck, had slowed down to permit another vehicle in front of him to make a right-hand turn. When Bowman applied his brakes, police said, he lost control of his truck, skidding across into the left hand of traffic.

About the same time, police said, Jack Settle, 36, of Gettysburg R. 3, driving south on Rt. 333, came around a curve in a 1960 GMC tractor-trailer and the two vehicles collided.

Police said there was $2,000 damage to Bowman's truck and $15,000 to the Settle tractor.

Settle was removed to the Chambersburg Hospital where he was treated for extensive lacerations of the scalp, right side and elbow.

Communists Kill Germans Swimming To 'Freedom' In 'Death Canal' Use Tear Gas

By GEORGE BOULTWOOD
BERLIN (AP)—An East German swimmer to freedom today across the Teltow Canal under a hail of bullets from Communist border guards. He climbed out on the west bank of the canal unhurt.

West Berlin police said they heard bullets whipping into the canal, whose center marks the sector border, about 6:45 a.m. Five minutes later the dripping man clambered up the west bank to freedom. He was immediately identified.

During the past week, Communist troops have killed two men trying to swim the 60 yards across the canal, which forms part of the border in the divided city. Berliners now call it the "Death Canal."

Police reported that Communist guards elsewhere on the border flung tear gas grenades and fired water cannon Tuesday night at about 60 persons gathered at Alexanderstrasse, in Kreuzberg in the American sector. Shortly after midnight the Communists opened up again when a group of Western youths started catcalling.

About 5 a.m. a Communist water cannon at Treptowerstrasse suddenly let fly at a police patrol car on the Western side.

President Heinrich Lübke of West Germany was in the city today for a look at the situation. He arrived unexpectedly after breaking off his vacation.

After talking with Mayor Willy Brandt, Lübke planned to visit the refugee reception center at Marienfelde and take a look at the barbed wire and concrete barriers erected by the Reds along the border.

Lübke's visit was attacked by the East German official news agency ADN as "provocative activity." The commentary said West Berlin was "not within the competence of Bonn politicians."

In a radio speech Tuesday night, Brandt rejected Soviet Premier Khrushchev's suggestion that Soviet troops join the U.S., British and French forces in a token garrisoning of the city. Brandt said the idea is unacceptable to the people of Berlin and the Western powers.

DEBATE ON BERLIN

Brandt also tangled with West German Chancellor Konrad Adenauer in election debate on Berlin. Adenauer charged in a campaign speech that the Berlin crisis was created by the Soviet Union to help Brandt, candidate of the Social Democratic party.

Adenauer's charge drew boos in Hagen and Gelsenkirchen. When he made it at Recklinghausen, he added that "it is absolutely out of the question" that Brandt's party shared any responsibility for the crisis.

Brandt, speaking at Erlangen, commented: "The old gentleman doesn't quite grasp the situation any more."

The East Germans still held an American soldier seized at the West German border early Tuesday near the Bavarian town of Neustadt. A U.S. Army spokesman said Spec 4 C. Bobby E. Scott, 20, of Edgerton, Mo., was arrested by Communist police while on regular patrol with his unit.

The Army said a request for Scott's release was sent to the Soviet forces in East Germany, since the United States does not recognize the East German regime.

Ford Strikes Truck Tuesday Afternoon

Damage totaled $275 in an accident in the first block of York St. Tuesday afternoon when Mary E. Adkins, 29, Biglerville, R. I., driving a 1953 Ford east on York St., struck a parked 1960 Chevrolet pickup truck owned by G. Burnell Klinefelter, 47, R. 5, borough police reported.

Damage to the right front end of the Ford was estimated at $125 while damage to the truck was estimated at $50. Police said Adkins will be charged with reckless driving.

The third of three editorials, tied for second place in the recent judging of editorials published on the 152nd anniversary of the birth of Abraham Lincoln, last February 12, that of the Cincinnati Inquirer, follows in full:

"THE LINCOLN LEGEND"

"In viewing Abraham Lincoln 152 years after his birth, the most striking single fact about him, we think, is this: Next to Christ Himself, Lincoln is the most written about man in human history.

"Whole libraries are filled with pieces of Lincolniana. Dozens of American cities possess Lincoln societies whose members devote themselves to nothing but exploring and re-exploring every conceivable facet of Lincoln's private life and public career. Every year produces a fresh contribution of Lincoln books — some of them embodying new material, most of them embodying new interpretations of old material.

The nation has a whole cult of Lincoln scholars whose collective work has accounted for nearly every minute of the slightly more than four years Lincoln lived in the White House.

"Who among Lincoln's contemporaries could have anticipated so searching an inquiry?

"The fact also is that Lincoln approached the presidency with nothing to intimate that he would be a great President. Aside from one undistinguished term in the U.S. House of Representatives, the story of Lincoln prior to 1860 was the story of failure. He had been frustrated in almost everything — business, politics, even, we're told, romance.

"The fact also is that Lincoln, while he lived, was one of the most bitterly assailed of our Presidents, one of the most venomously attacked. As if the burdens of prosecuting a fratricidal war were not enough, Lincoln carried also the outrageous hostility of small and bigoted men of both North and South. Yet these slings and arrows never shook him, never dampened his faith, never swerved him from his purpose.

"Perhaps these facts — the frustrations, the hostilities of those who failed to understand his motivations — were the very things that made Lincoln great. Perhaps these are the things that made him the perfect embodiment of integrity, patience, humility and faith.

"These, to be sure, are qualities America treasures as highly today as in Lincoln's day. For while Lincoln saw a nation torn between freedom and slavery, we see an entire world just as sharply divided and hopelessly torn.

"The hope today — as it was in Lincoln's time — is that we must retain our faith and patience, but never at the price of surrender or compromise, that we must love our enemies, but never the godless tyranny for which they stand.

"This, we believe, is the Lincoln message. This is why the world will never outgrow his wisdom."

FACES CODE CHARGE

Justice of the Peace John P. Whitman has sent a 10-day notice to Calvin Moyer, Hazleton, on a charge by state police of following too closely.

Twelfth Baby "On The House"

ST. LOUIS, Mo. (AP) — The 12th child of Mr. and Mrs. Walter W. Mayfield is on the house, medically speaking.

Mrs. Mayfield gave birth at Incarnate Word Hospital Wednesday to a boy. Her other children, nine boys and two girls, also were born at the hospital.

Mayfield, 50, an insurance broker, said the hospital staff had teased him for years about having a baby on the house.

This was the first time that 12 children from one family had been born at Incarnate Word, so hospital officials decided to take care of medical costs for mother and baby.

Mayfield recalled that when their first child was born 17 years ago the doctor remarked "If I could have babies like that, I'd have a dozen of them."

STATE BEGINS USING RADAR AT MIDNIGHT

HARRISBURG (AP)—Radar as a weapon against speeders goes into effect at midnight with the electronic equipment in the hands of only half of the state police troops.

The equipment was being distributed today to some of the troops, but others will not receive it until Friday.

The law permitting state police to use the electronic system for catching highway speeders was passed by the legislature now winding up its session. The law was made effective on Sept. 1, which means the radar equipment becomes legal at 12:01 a.m. Friday.

DISTRIBUTE EQUIPMENT

State police headquarters said the equipment was being distributed today to troops at Philadelphia, Greensburg, Scranton, Harrisburg, Erie, Bethlehem, and two sets to the Pennsylvania Turnpike.

Other troops to receive the equipment Friday are located at Butler, Punxsutawney, Washington, Hollidaysburg, Montoursville, Hazleton, Wyoming, Reading, and Lancaster.

Half of the equipment consists of new model detectors, and the other half are models which have been used for tests during the past year.

To All Teens

Where will you be the day school opens? With the crowd, checking in for the fall term? Or on the street — one of the drop-outs? It's a funny thing about drop-outs. First they quit school. Then they go from job to job, always looking for something better which never comes along. They make a big noise about being independent. But they are really scared — scared because they don't know very much. Almost everyone is scared sometimes. But it's not chicken to look for help. Go back on registration day. Have an honest talk with your counselor or teacher. Together maybe you can work out a course which will help you to get a good job soon. Now play it cool. Stay in school.

SCRIBE SAYS "SALADS" BEST IN CALIFORNIA

By BOB THOMAS
AP Movie-Salad Writer

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—These are salad days, at which time it's good to be in California.

This is not mere local pride, but honest realism. I hate to be a continent-dropper (that's a lie; I love it). But having been to the Orient and Europe this year, I can report I still haven't found salads to match California's.

Nor are there comparable salads in eastern America. New York is a limp-lettuce town. I'll duel any New Yorker who challenges that. Watercress at five paces.

The difference is not merely in the fresh-picked lettuce you get in California. The basic element of a salad is the care with which it is made. There is nothing more repugnant to the sensitive saladman than a handful of warm lettuce topped with a mucilage of thousand island.

MUST BE COLD, CRISP

Lettuce must be cold and crisp. My cook, who makes such a good salad that I married her, has an unpatented method for assuring this. She tears and sprinkles the lettuce an hour early, then chills it in the refrigerator with a paper towel lining the bowl to absorb the water. The dressing, of course is added just before eating.

In California you can get salads in abundant variety. Even a fried salad. This sounds like a misnomer but it's a taco-shredded lettuce, cheese, tomato sauce and Mexican sausage wrapped in a deep-fried tortilla.

Hollywood's restaurants offer a wide assortment of salads. You won't find a better chef's salad than the one at Musso-Frank's, oldest eatery on the boulevard (est. 1919) and the best.

Musso's combines romaine, plain lettuce and watercress with thin slices of chicken, ham and tongue, chopped egg, shoestring beets and finely chopped parsley. It's served with a special pink French dressing, with or without garlic according to your courage.

BROWN DERBY SPECIAL

The Brown Derby's special is the Cobb salad, named after bossman Bob Cobb. It's great for people too tired to chew, because it's all chopped fine as confetti.

Here are the items that go on the chopping block: 1/2 head lettuce, 1/2 bunch watercress, small bunch chikory, 1/2 head romaine, two medium peeled tomatoes, two boiled breasts of chicken, six strips crisp bacon, an avocado, three hard-boiled eggs, two tablespoons chive, 1/2 cup grated Roquefort cheese.

Put it all together with an old-fashioned French dressing and you've got a fabulous salad for four.

This column has made me so hungry, I'm going out for a salad. Back in two weeks.

Eight Killed In Head-On Collision

BETHEL SPRINGS, Tenn. (AP)—Eight persons—six children and two adults—were killed early today when their car collided head on with a tractor-trailer truck near this western Tennessee town.

The victims, all Negroes, were not identified immediately. Officers said their car bore license plates from Escambia County in Alabama. They were believed to be members of the same family.

Investigating officers said the driver of the car apparently went to sleep. His car crossed the center line and went under the huge truck. The driver of the truck was not injured seriously.

Bethel Springs is 22 miles south of Jackson.

SLIGHT STOCK FLURRY

NEW YORK (AP) — A slight flurry by defense-related issues greeted news that Russia has decided to resume testing of nuclear weapons as the stock market moved a bit higher early this afternoon. Trading was quiet.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks at noon was up .30 at 255.10 with industrials up .70, rails up .20 and utilities down .20.

The major steelmakers opened down moderately as a result of President Kennedy's recommendation that a steel price increase be avoided this fall. Some recovered later and posted gains.

HIGH RANKING PRELATE DIES IN LANCASTER

LANCASTER, Pa. (AP) — The Right Rev. Msgr. Joseph Schweich, one of the ranking prelates in the Roman Catholic Diocese of Harrisburg, died Wednesday night in St. Joseph's hospital. He was 65.

Msgr. Schweich was hospitalized Tuesday after suffering his second heart attack this year. He had been a pastor of St. Joseph's church here for the past 22 years and vicar general of the diocese since 1955.

Msgr. Schweich was born in Locust Gap, the son of a coal miner. He was ordained in Harrisburg in 1922. After service in Italy as an assistant pastor and principal of York Catholic High school, he was named chaplain at Northeastern penitentiary and also was chaplain for Catholic students at Bucknell university.

FORMED FIRST PARISH

He formed the first Catholic parish in Union county and was later transferred to Lewistown. In 1936 he was assigned to St. Joseph's here. He became a domestic prelate in 1948.

He is survived by a brother, Nicholas, two nephews and a niece.

Msgr. Schweich's body will be transferred to St. Joseph's church on Sunday afternoon where it will lie in state until Monday when a solemn pontifical requiem high mass will be celebrated in St. Joseph's church. The Most Rev. George G. Leech, bishop of the Harrisburg diocese, will be the celebrant.

Medwin Noll, 29, of Myerstown R. 1, Lebanon County, the driver of the truck, escaped injury. His 30-year-old wife and 3-year-old son, Medwin Jr., were admitted to a Lebanon hospital in satisfactory condition.

Police said Mrs. Noll and the two children were hurt from the truck by the impact of the crash. The accident occurred between Bethel and Rehrersburg.

ately predictable results:

1. It will produce a new burst of effort by the big powers in the nuclear arms race, especially as the Moscow announcement spoke of developing a 100-megaton bomb (a force equivalent to 100 million tons of TNT).

2. It means an intensification of the Berlin dispute with its danger of a military clash in Germany that could lead to nuclear war. The President and his advisers agreed that the Soviet Union would take a propaganda beating for its decision. The President's statement reflected that conclusion.

"The Soviet government's decision to resume nuclear weapons testing will be met with deepest concern and resentment throughout the world," Kennedy said.

Former National Chairman Passes

WASHINGTON (AP) — William M. Boyle Jr., a Washington lawyer and former chairman of the Democratic National Committee, died in his sleep Wednesday night. He was 59.

Boyle, a former Kansas City, Mo., lawyer, had been active in politics since he was a youngster. He was credited with having had a big hand in Harry S. Truman's surprise election over Thomas E. Dewey in 1948.

He was elected chairman of the Democratic National Committee on Aug. 24, 1949. He resigned Oct. 9, 1951.

Boyle had been practicing law here for several years.

New Satellite Is Awaiting Signal

VANDENBERG AIR FORCE BASE, Calif. (AP) — The latest Discoverer satellite is orbiting the earth every 91.4 minutes, awaiting a signal from earth to eject an instrument capsule over the Pacific.

The satellite is the 26th in the long Discoverer series, and the 19th to achieve orbit.

Space scientists haven't decided yet when to press the ejection button. They're still sticking by what they said after launch Wednesday — that the capsule will be dropped in one to four days.

Air Force planes from Hawaii will try to snag the falling capsule as it parachutes into a target area near the Hawaiian Islands. There have been four such recoveries in the history of the series.

TAX MEASURE

and others would pay a higher tax than is currently levied against them.

In line with the higher occupation assessments for some, those in the upper occupation brackets are mostly likely property owners, Coulson said, and the higher occupation assessment by "taking the pressure off" increasing real estate taxes would aid them from that angle.

ATTENDS MEETING

In addition to the assistant county superintendent of schools, others attending the meeting included Upper Adams Superintendent of Schools Donald Hudson, Upper Adams directors Luther Lady, Oscar Rice Jr., and Paul Pitzer, and the business manager of the Upper Adams district, David Houck.

Houck was among those who offered to assist the commissioners in any way in seeking the assignment to their proper occupation in the assessment. Others present offered similar help as individuals to assist from their own knowledge in the reassignment. They indicated the belief however that no present school records could be turned over as such for checking.

The commissioners indicated that if the laws force them into keeping the assessment as it stands for a year they will probably hold meetings next month in various parts of the county to permit residents to appear before them in the evenings to "straighten out" the occupations in which the residents are listed. If such arrangements are made the commissioners also indicated they would probably not stick to the requirement that all appeals must be in by August 31, but rather would permit appeals up to the time of the hearings.

GOP BALKS AT DEMOCRAT TAX FOR EDUCATION

HARRISBURG (AP) — Senate Democrats put on an eleven-hour drive today to break down solid Republican opposition to a $23 million tax designed to finance education improvements.

The Democratic leadership revived the measure late Wednesday night a few hours after it was defeated, 22-27.

Backers of the education program mounted an all-out letter and telegram campaign urging support of the tax—a 2 per cent levy on dividends, capital gains and royalties.

LITTLE PROGRESS

But there were no signs that the effort had chipped away the single Republican vote Democrats would need to put the bill across. The Republican opposition to the levy appeared as strong as ever as time was running out on the 1961 session—due to adjourn at 10 p.m., EDT, Friday night.

The fate of a batch of bills implementing the proposed education improvements rested with the tax bill.

Sen. Charles R. Weiner, Democratic floor leader, said the proposals would be dropped if the tax bill failed.

BILL PROVISIONS

Among other things the bills would provide $18.6 million in increased school subsidies; another $1.5 million for Pennsylvania State University; funds to start a community college program and appropriations to boost state college faculty salaries.

Republicans contended they favored the education improvement plans, but opposed the tax on grounds it is "inequitable." They claimed Gov. Lawrence now has enough revenue to finance the education package without further taxes.

Defeat of the education tax program came after an intensive overnight effort by the administration and by the Pennsylvania State Education Association, the school teachers' professional organization, to win a GOP vote for the measure.

OTHER BILLS

Meanwhile, the House sent over a few more education bills for Senate action.

They included a bill that would carry out the changeover of 14 state-owned colleges from teacher-training institutions to liberal arts colleges, a $10,000 appropriation for the Pennsylvania State University forestry school and a $100,000 program for the education of exceptional children.

However, a Senate-passed bill reviving adult extension courses in the public schools was defeated by the House, 96-101. It was revived for another vote later in the week and amended to eliminate some courses in an effort to meet objections that led to the bill's defeat on the first round.

TO REGULATE LEGISLATIVE LOBBYISTS

HARRISBURG (AP) — After years of effort, final legislative approval was given Wednesday night to a bill regulating lobbyists around the Pennsylvania legislature.

The measure, although virtually stripped bare during its legislative journey, now goes to Gov. Lawrence, whose administration sponsored it.

The House concurred, 164-31, in Senate amendments taking out requirements that lobbyists — men and women hired to influence the fate of legislation — report their expenditures and sources of income. In its final form, the measure, originated by the House, simply would require lobbyists to register with the chief officers of the ward him, he ran away. He said he then told Hampton's cousin about the incident but did not return to the scene again or make efforts to help Heare because "it wasn't none of my business."

Hampton claimed that he had started toward the woods with Jones, but when the camp boss, Moses Jenkins, told them not to go into the woods, he turned back to the camp. He held he knew nothing about Heare's being struck or the wrist watch. Hampton, Jones and Jenkins are Negro migrant workers; Heare is white.

The incident, according to the testimony, occurred on a Saturday afternoon. Heare was found in the woods with a head injury the next afternoon. Jenkins said he had been told about a "white man injured" on Saturday afternoon and sought to notify the camp owner about it. Unable to find the owner, Jenkins said he did nothing further until the next morning when he located the owner.

Dr. Bruce N. Wolff testified to treating Heare for an injury to the back of his head, but said it could have been caused by a fall as well as by being hit.

CIVIL RIGHTS RIDER PASSED BY SENATORS

WASHINGTON (AP) — A Senate battle over civil rights legislation has ended with approval of a bill to extend the Civil Rights Commission for two years.

Attempts to shove through other, more far-reaching civil rights measures were smashed, with Senate Democratic Leader Mike Mansfield of Montana cracking the whip.

By a 70-19 vote, the measure extending the commission was tied onto a bill appropriating $762 million for the State and Justice departments, the federal courts, and related agencies. Commission funds total $888,000.

RIDER TROUBLE

The money bill now goes back to the House, where it could run into Southern opposition because of the civil rights rider. But the outlook was that any Southern roadblocks would be only temporary.

President Kennedy has not asked Congress to pass any civil rights measures at this session except for the extension of the commission.

Sen. Jacob K. Javits, R-N.Y., protested that the administration was turning its back on Democratic platform pledges and attempting to appease Southern senators in an effort to assure passage of other administration bills.

Civil rights proposals offered by Javits and others as riders to the appropriation bill were tabled.

Wentz Reunion Will Be Held On Sunday

The biennial gathering of the Wentz family will be held Sunday afternoon at Sherman's Church, five miles south of Hanover. A report of the historians who have traced the family tree from the first immigrants, Valentine in 1743 and Frederick in 1749, to 1961 will be presented.

There will also be an exhibit of Wentz antiques and original land grants, one of them signed by Benjamin Franklin. A picnic dinner will follow the program. Dr. Frederick J. Wentz, of the local seminary faculty, is president of the relationship.

CHAMONIX, France (AP) — French police gave this Gallic reason for refusing to disclose the names of 81 persons rescued Wednesday after the break in the Mont Blanc Alpine cableway: "You never know who travels with whom, and in France we try to be as discreet about these things as we can."

Four members of a German family and an Italian father and son were killed when two of the cable cars derailed and crashed to the glacier below.

TOURED RED CHINA

He was on a tour of the Far East and Red China when Quadros resigned last Friday, throwing the nation into turmoil.

The start of military action was announced shortly after Congress voted overwhelmingly to set up a parliamentary system of government with Goulart as president. But wavering under pressure from Army Minister Odilio Denys and the air force and navy chiefs, the lawmakers could not decide whether the presidency would be a powerful post or only a figurehead.

A joint session in Brasilia voted 298-14 to amend the constitution, abolish the present republican form of government paralleling the U.S. system, and "respect all present elective offices," meaning Goulart's vice presidency and his right to the presidency.

DEBATE LATER TODAY

The question of the presidential powers was to be debated in separate sessions of the Chamber of Deputies and the Senate later today. The issue was whether to have a parliamentary system with a strong president as in France, or a system like Italy's where the presidency is a ceremonial office and the governing power lies with the prime minister elected by Parliament.

Congress affirmed its support of Goulart's succession despite the service chiefs' earlier rejection of a proposal to let the vice president return as a figurehead president and a statement from the military leaders reiterating their opposition to Goulart's return to the country.

The military chiefs in a manifesto charged that Goulart was tied too closely to the Communists and said his return as president would set off "a disquieting period of agitation, of turmoil and even bloody clashes in cities and towns."

2 BOYS DROWN IN DAM NEAR LETTERKENNY

SHIPPENSBURG, Pa. (AP) — Two youths drowned Wednesday night in a dam which serves the Army's Letterkenny Ordnance Depot near here.

State police identified the victims as Robert L. Rebeck Jr., 16, and Miles Devor Jr., 19, both of Shippensburg.

The dam is located in a mountainous area near Shippensburg. Army personnel and state police led a crew of skin divers which started looking for the bodies today.

Trooper Michael Sabol said the victims were members of a party of five teen-age boys who went to the dam shortly before midnight and attempted to cross the lake on two improvised boats. The boats were made from auto hoods which were welded together, he said.

LEAD BOAT SINKS

He said the boats were hooked together. The lead boat developed a leak and sank, pulling under the second boat. All five youths were dumped into the water.

The three survivors who swam to shore were identified as Ronald G. Plasterer, 17, Wilbur Mellinger, 15, and Ernest Shaffer, 16, all of Shippensburg.

State police said one of the youths who drowned could swim, the other could not. They said it was assumed that the lad who was able to swim might have been dragged under the water trying to rescue the nonswimmer.

The area is open to public boats but at their own risk, troopers said.

HIGH RANKING PRELATE DIES IN LANCASTER

LANCASTER, Pa. (AP) — The Right Rev. Msgr. Joseph Schweich, one of the ranking prelates in the Roman Catholic Diocese of Harrisburg, died Wednesday night in St. Joseph's hospital. He was 65.

Msgr. Schweich was hospitalized Tuesday after suffering his second heart attack this year. He had been a pastor of St. Joseph's church here for the past 22 years and vicar general of the diocese since 1955.

Msgr. Schweich was born in Locust Gap, the son of a coal miner. He was ordained in Harrisburg in 1922. After service in York as an assistant pastor and principal of York Catholic High school, he was named chaplain at Northeastern penitentiary and also was chaplain for Catholic students at Bucknell university.

FORMED FIRST PARISH

He formed the first Catholic parish in Union county and was later transferred to Lewistown. In 1938 he was assigned to St. Joseph's here. He became a domestic prelate in 1948.

He is survived by a brother, Nicholas, two nephews and a niece.

Msgr. Schweich's body will be transferred to St. Joseph's church on Sunday afternoon where it will lie in state until Monday when a solemn pontifical requiem high mass will be celebrated in St. Joseph's church. The Most Rev. George G. Leech, bishop of the Harrisburg diocese, will be the celebrant.

LEBANON, Pa. (AP)—A pickup truck rammed into a utility pole near the Berks-Lebanon County line Tuesday, killing 9-month-old Nina Marie Noll and injuring her mother and a brother.

Medwin Noll, 29, of Myerstown R. 1, Lebanon County, the driver of the truck, escaped injury. His 30-year-old wife and 3-year-old son, Medwin Jr., were admitted to a Lebanon hospital in satisfactory condition.

Police said Mrs. Noll and the two children were hurled from the truck by the impact of the crash. The accident occurred between Bethel and Rehrersburg.

ately predictable results:

1. It will produce a new burst of effort by the big powers in the nuclear arms race, especially as the Moscow announcement spoke of developing a 100-megaton bomb (a force equivalent to 100 million tons of TNT).

2. It means an intensification of the Berlin dispute with its danger of a military clash in Germany that could lead to nuclear war.

The President and his advisers agreed that the Soviet Union would take a propaganda beating for its decision. The President's statement reflected that conclusion.

"The Soviet government's decision to resume nuclear weapons testing will be met with deepest concern and resentment throughout the world," Kennedy said.

Former National Chairman Passes

WASHINGTON (AP)—William M. Boyle Jr., a Washington lawyer and former chairman of the Democratic National Committee, died in his sleep Wednesday night. He was 59.

Boyle, a former Kansas City, Mo., lawyer, had been active in politics since he was a youngster. He was credited with having had a big hand in Harry S. Truman's surprise election over Thomas E. Dewey in 1948.

He was elected chairman of the Democratic National Committee on Aug. 24, 1949. He resigned Oct. 9, 1951.

Boyle had been practicing law here for several years.

ADVERTISE IN THE TIMES

New Satellite Is Awaiting Signal

VANDENBERG AIR FORCE BASE, Calif. (AP)—The latest Discoverer satellite is orbiting the earth every 91.4 minutes, awaiting a signal from earth to eject an instrument capsule over the Pacific.

The satellite is the 29th in the long Discoverer series, and the 19th to achieve orbit.

Space scientists haven't decided yet when to press the ejection button. They're still sticking by what they said after launch Wednesday—that the capsule will be dropped in one to four days.

Air Force planes from Hawaii will try to snag the falling capsule as it parachutes into a target area near the Hawaiian Islands. There have been four such recoveries in the history of the series.

and others would pay a higher tax than is currently levied against them.

In line with the higher occupation assessments for some, those in the upper occupation brackets are mostly likely property owners, Coulson said, and the higher occupation assessment by "taking the pressure off" increasing real estate taxes would aid them from that angle.

ATTENDS MEETING

In addition to the assistant county superintendent of schools, others attending the meeting included Upper Adams Superintendent of Schools Donald Hudson, Upper Adams directors Luther Ladd, Oscar Rice Jr., and Paul Pitzer, and the business manager of the Upper Adams district, David Houck.

Houck was among those who offered to assist the commissioners in any way in seeking the assignment of the assessment. Others present offered similar help as individuals to assist from their own knowledge in the reassignment. They indicated the belief however that no present school records could be turned over as such for checking.

The commissioners indicated that if the laws force them into keeping the assessment as it stands for a year they will probably hold meetings next month in various parts of the county to permit residents to appear before them in the evenings to "straighten out" the occupations in which the residents are listed. If such arrangements are made the commissioners also indicated they would probably not stick to the requirement that all appeals must be in by August 31, but rather would permit appeals up to the time of the hearings.

Defeat of the education tax program came after an intensive overnight effort by the administration and by the Pennsylvania State Education Association, the school teachers' professional organization, to win a GOP vote for the measure.

OTHER BILLS

Meanwhile, the House sent over a few more education bills for Senate action.

They included a bill that would carry out the changeover of the 14 state-owned colleges from teacher-training institutions to liberal arts colleges, a $100,000 appropriation for the Pennsylvania State University forestry school and a $100,000 program for the education of exceptional children. However, a Senate-passed bill reviving adult extension courses in the public schools was defeated by the House, 96-101. It was revived for another vote later in the week and amended to eliminate some courses in an effort to meet objections that led to the bill's defeat on the first round.

GOP BALKS AT DEMOCRAT TAX FOR EDUCATION

HARRISBURG (AP)—Senate Democrats put on an eleventh hour drive today to break down solid Republican opposition to a $23 million tax designed to finance education improvements.

The Democratic leadership revived the measure late Wednesday night a few hours after it was defeated, 22-7.

Backers of the education program mounted an all-out letter and telegram campaign urging support of the tax—a 2 per cent levy on dividends, capital gains and royalties.

LITTLE PROGRESS

But there were no signs that the effort had chipped away the single Republican vote Democrats would need to put the bill across. The Republican opposition to the levy appeared as strong as ever as time was running out on the 1961 session—due to adjourn at 10 p.m., EDT, Friday night.

The fate of a batch of bills implementing the proposed education improvements rested with the tax bill.

Sen. Charles R. Weiner, Democratic floor leader, said the proposals would be dropped if the tax bill failed.

BILL PROVISIONS

Among other things the bills would provide $18.6 million in increased school subsidies; another $1.5 million for Pennsylvania State University; funds to start a community college program and appropriations to boost state college faculty salaries.

Republicans contended they favored the education improvement plans, but opposed the tax on grounds it is "inequitable." They claimed Gov. Lawrence now has enough revenue to finance the education package without further taxes.

TO REGULATE LEGISLATIVE LOBBYISTS

HARRISBURG (AP)—After years of effort, final legislative approval was given Wednesday night to a bill regulating lobbyists around the Pennsylvania legislature.

The measure, although virtually stripped bare during its legislative journey, now goes to Gov. Lawrence, whose administration sponsored it.

The House concurred, 164-31, in Senate amendments taking out requirements that lobbyists—men and women hired to influence the fate of legislation—report their expenditures and sources of income. In its final form, the measure, originated by the House, simply would require lobbyists to register with the chief officers of the House. In other action, the House: Approved 196-2 a bill authorizing the governor to extend the enlistment of Pennsylvania National Guardsmen by one year upon request of the federal government due to the Berlin crisis. Present enlistments are for three years. Passed and sent to the governor a bill raising the number of signers required on petitions calling for an election to do away with a county's health department (110-8).

Hampton claimed that he had started toward the woods with Jones, but when the camp boss, Moses Jenkins, told them not to go into the woods, he turned back to the camp. He held he knew nothing about Hears' being struck or the wrist watch, Hampton, Jones and Jenkins are Negro migrant workers; Hears is white.

The incident, according to the testimony, occurred on a Saturday afternoon. Hears was found in the woods with a head injury the next afternoon. CIVIL RIGHTS RIDER PASSED BY SENATORS

WASHINGTON (AP)—A Senate battle over civil rights legislation has ended with approval of a bill to extend the Civil Rights Commission for two years.

Attempts to shove through other, more far-reaching civil rights measures were smashed, with Senate Democratic Leader Mike Mansfield of Montana cracking the whip.

By a 70-19 vote, the measure extending the commission was tied onto a bill appropriating $762 million for the State and Justice departments, the federal courts, and related agencies. Commission funds total $888,000.

RIDER TROUBLE

The money bill now goes back to the House, where it could run into Southern opposition because of the civil rights rider. But the outlook was that any Southern roadblocks would be only temporary.

President Kennedy has not asked Congress to pass any civil rights measures at this session except for the extension of the commission.

Sen. Jacob K. Javits, R-N.Y., protested that the administration was turning its back on Democratic platform pledges and attempting to appease Southern senators in an effort to assure passage of other administration bills.

Civil rights proposals offered by Javits and others as riders to the appropriation bill were tabled.

There will also be an exhibit of Wentz antiquities and original land grants, one of them signed by Benjamin Franklin. A picnic dinner will follow the program. Dr. Frederick J. Wentz, of the local seminary faculty, is president of the relationship.

Four members of a German family and an Italian father and son were killed when two of the cable cars derailed and crashed to the glacier below.

STATE BEGINS USING RADAR AT MIDNIGHT

HARRISBURG (AP)—Radar as a weapon against speeders goes into effect at midnight with the electronic equipment in the hands of only half of the state police troops.

The equipment was being distributed today to some of the troops, but others will not receive it until Friday.

The law permitting state police to use the electronic system for catching highway speeders was passed by the legislature now winding up its session. The law was made effective on Sept. 1, which means the radar equipment becomes legal at 12:01 a.m. Friday.

DISTRIBUTE EQUIPMENT

State police headquarters said the equipment was being distributed today to troops at Philadelphia, Greengarden, Scranton, Harrisburg, Erie, Bethlehem, and two sets to the Pennsylvania Turnpike.

Other troops to receive the equipment Friday are located at Butler, Punxsutawney, Washington, Hollidaysburg, Montoursville, Hazleton, Wyoming, Reading, and Lancaster.

Half of the equipment consists of new model detectors, and the other half are models which have been used for tests during the past year.

To All Teens

Where will you be the day school opens? With the crowd, checking in for the fall term? Or on the street—one of the drop-outs?

It's a funny thing about drop-outs. First they quit school. Then they go from job to job, always looking for something better which never comes along.

They make a big noise about being independent. But they are really scared—scared because they don't know very much.

Almost everyone is scared sometimes. But it's not chicken to look for help. Go back on registration day. Have an honest talk with your counselor or teacher. Together maybe you can work out a course which will help you to get a good job soon.

Now play it cool. Stay in school.

AP Movie-Salad Writer

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—These are salad days, at which time it's good to be in California. This is not mere local pride, but honest realism. I hate to be a continent-dropper (that's a lie; I love it). But having been to the Orient and Europe this year, I can report I still haven't found salads to match California's.

Nor are there comparable salads in eastern America. New York is a limp-lettuce town. I'll dupee any New Yorker who challenges that. Watercress at five paces.

The difference is not merely in the fresh-picked lettuce you get in California. The basic element of a salad is the care with which it is made. There is nothing more repugnant to the sensitive saladman than a handful of warm lettuce topped with a mucilage of thousand island.

MUST BE COLD, CRISP

Lettuce must be cold and crisp. My cook, who makes such a good salad that I married her, has an unpatented method for assuring this. She tears and sprinkles the lettuce an hour early, then chills it in the refrigerator with a paper towel lining the bowl to absorb the water. The dressing, of course is added just before eating.

In California you can get salads in abundant variety. Even a fried salad. This sounds like a misnomer but it's a taco-shredded lettuce, cheese, tomato sauce and Mexican sausage wrapped in a deep-fried tortilla.

Hollywood's restaurants offer a wide assortment of salads. You won't find a better chef's salad than the one at Musso-Frank's, oldest eatery on the boulevard (est. 1919) and the best.

Musso's combines romaine, plain lettuce and watercress with thin slices of chicken, ham and tongue, chopped egg, shoestring beets and finely chopped parsley. It's served with a special pink French dressing, with or without garlic according to your courage.

BROWN DERBY SPECIAL

The Brown Derby's special is the Cobb salad, named after bossman Bob Cobb. It's great for people too tired to chew, because it's all chopped fine as confetti.

Here are the items that go on the chopping block: 1/2 head lettuce, 1/2 bunch watercress, small bunch chickory, 1/2 head romaine, two medium peeled tomatoes, two boiled breasts of chicken, six strips crisp bacon, an avocado, three hard-boiled eggs, two tablespoons chive, 1/2 cup grated Roquefort cheese.

Put it all together with an old-fashioned French dressing and you've got a fabulous salad for four.

This column has made me so hungry, I'm going out for a salad. Back in two weeks.

Eight Killed In Head-On Collision

BETHEL SPRINGS, Tenn. (AP)—Eight persons—six children and two adults—were killed early today when their car collided head on with a tractor-trailer truck near this western Tennessee town. The victims, all Negroes, were not identified immediately.

Officers said their car bore license plates from Escambia County in Alabama. They were believed to be members of the same family.

Investigating officers said the driver of the car apparently went to sleep. His car crossed the center line and went under the huge truck. The driver of the truck was not injured seriously.

Bethel Springs is 22 miles south of Jackson.

SLIGHT STOCK FLURRY

NEW YORK (AP)—A slight flurry by defense-related issues greeted news that Russia has decided to resume testing of nuclear weapons as the stock market moved a bit higher early this afternoon. Trading was quiet.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks at noon was up .30 at 255.10 with industrials up .70, rails up .20 and utilities down .20.

The major steelmakers opened down moderately as a result of President Kennedy's recommendation that a steel price increase be avoided this fall. Some recovered later and posted gains.

Today's Talk

IN CONDITION

I have noticed that those who accomplish most are most frequently those with the soundest background.

Life in itself is very big. And the more you put back into life

the greater does that mysterious urge arise within you which makes you want to live better and bigger.

It isn't so much what you say, or do—but what you are that counts in the important summing up of values.

It's so much a matter of conditioning that makes one man rise where the other falls.

It takes continual sacrifice, giving up, overlooking, to warm a great heart. And there mustn't be any loose ends, no neglecting of vital needs. For it is upon the reserves of a well ordered life that a man must depend during the pinches.

If you keep your body, your mind, and your heart all in tune you will never find yourself pulling against yourself.

It's condition that tells the tale in an important athletic event as well as in an important life

Know the burn of failure, the bitterness of betrayal, the loss of friendship and you will be able to appreciate the gold of success, loyalty and love.

Keep yourself in condition and you will be fit for any call.

Tomorrow Mr. Adams will talk on the subject: "Fulfillment"

THE GAY SEASON

Oh, I'm glad that I am living,

For the world's a jolly place;

I have reasons for thanksgiving

And the smiles that wreath my face.

I have reasons to be merry

And no longer will I sob;

For today I'm happy, very,

Eating corn upon the cob.

Oh, the summer joys are many;

There's the charm of azure skies,

And of sorrow there's not any,

There's a twinkle in my eyes.

There's a joy that none may rob;

For today I'm happy, very,

Eating corn upon the cob.

Oh, this life is full of pleasure,

With a mixture now of pain;

There is illness in the measure,

There is sorrow in the grain;

But if every sickness claims me

I shall only sigh and sob;

That the season when it claims

WHAT PRICE PROTEINS? It is estimated that a preponderance of women do not get sufficient amounts of protein.

And the consequence is something to ponder as proteins are the building blocks of health, energy and beauty.

The deficiency is due mainly to a misconception about the cost and variety of protein foods.

People associate proteins with expensive steaks and chops. Yet there are numerous, low-priced foods that yield as much or more of the nutrient as those in higher brackets.

For example, chipped beef offers almost a third more protein than rib roast, ounce for ounce.

Nor is meat the only source.

Whopping amounts of high-quality protein come in fish, fowl, cheese, milk, eggs and wheat

Many additional foods also supply protein. But some of them provide insignificant quantities, and at higher calorie counts.

Others offer a very low-grade of protein. To be graded as high-quality, protein must contain 20 of the 22 amino acids. All of them are necessary to your well-being.

To insure a healthful intake, and whether or not you are reducing, just include the following foods in your daily bill-of-fare:

DETROIT BOWS TO CHICAGO; YANKEES WIN

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The second place Detroit Tigers lost their second in a row to the Chicago White Sox, 7-4, Wednesday night and dropped 2½ games behind the New York Yankees, who beat Minnesota 4-0 on the four-hit pitching of Bill Stafford. Elston Howard and Mickey Mantle homered for New York, with Mantle tagging lefty Jim Kaat for No. 47. That left Mantle one game behind Babe Ruth's record of 60 home runs in 1927. Teammate Roger Maris, still at 51, now is only seven games ahead of Ruth.

The hottest home run slugger of the moment, Jim Gentile, belted his 43rd as third place Baltimore walloped five homers and crushed Los Angeles 11-4. It was Gentile's seventh home run in nine games, but he's six behind Ruth's pace for 136 games.

Cleveland clobbered Washington 9-0 and Boston whipped Kansas City 9-3.

COMMIT THREE ERRORS

The Tigers, playing without flu-stricken Norm Cash, the AL's batting leader at .366, committed three errors for the second straight game and were checked on five hits by southpaw Juan Pizarro (11-5), who struck out 10. Jim Bunning (15-10) was roughed up for 10 of Chicago's 15 hits, but it was a three-run eighth against reliever's Gerry Staley and Hank Aguirre that won it for the Sox.

Stafford (12-7) dueling Jim Kaat (7-13) with only a 1-0 lead until Mantle walloped his first home run in nine games leading off the seventh inning. Howard hit his 14th home run in the ninth, off reliever Ray Moore.

Gentile had three hits and drove in four runs, snatching the RBI lead from Maris with 124, for the Orioles, who picked up their other home runs from Jackie Brandt, Earl Robinson, Ron Hansen and Jerry Adair in support of Jack Fisher (6-11). Ron Moeller (4-8) was the loser.

KLUSZEWski HOMERS

Ted Kluszewski homered for the Angels.

The Senators gave the Indians an unearned run in the second inning and were rapped for eight runs in the fourth. Gary Bell (9-14) pitched his first shut-out of the year with a four-hitter. John Gabler (3-7) was the loser.

Winning right-hander Gene Conley (9-11) beat the A's and Jim Archer (8-11) with a tie-breaking, two-run single in the seventh for the Red Sox, who pushed across five more in the ninth.

OSLO (AP)—Disgruntled commuters on Oslo's suburban Baerum Line got fed up Wednesday with seeing express trains whiz past them nearly empty while they waited for the crammed chug-alongs to pick them up.

Thirty passengers at Haslum Station lined up on the track, stopped the express and refused to move until they were let aboard the train.

The municipally owned railway company said it would look into their complaint. But meanwhile, the company said, the express will continue to pass up the commuting stops — if no one blocks the tracks.

YANKEES MORE WORRIED OVER WINNING FLAG

By JIM ROGERS

MINNEAPOLIS-ST. PAUL (AP) — Mickey Mantle had just swatted his 47th home run, but there was little talk in the Yankee dressing room about that. Everyone was more concerned over how second place Detroit came out with Chicago.

Most of the Yankees had left the dressing room when the final score was posted: Chicago 7, Detroit 4.

That, coupled with New York's 4-0 victory over the Minnesota Twins behind the four-hit pitching of Bill Stafford Wednesday night, put the Yanks 2½ games ahead of the Tigers.

"WIN THE PENNANT"

"There isn't much talk about the home runs," explained Yankee Manager Ralph Houk. "The boys are more interested in winning the pennant."

That feeling carries even to statistician Bill Kane, who makes no mention in his press sheet of how close Mantle and Roger Maris, who has 51 roundtrippers, are to Babe Ruth's record 60 homers.

The pennant fever was best exhibited Wednesday night by Maris who risked injury sliding hard into Minnesota second baseman Billy Martin when Martin was attempting to complete a double play. The ball sailed into the Yanks' dugout and resulted in the Yanks' first run.

WILL TAKE CHANCES

"I had to take my chances with an injury," said Maris. "The score was 0-0 at the time and if I could upset the double play, that meant a possible run. We're out to win the pennant and any records will be incidental."

Houk said he felt no concern at the slide, but "I would have if he hadn't tried to break up the play. These guys are all professionals now. They should know how to slide."

SAYS SOVIETS PROPAGANDIZE NUCLEAR BOMB

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

WASHINGTON (AP) — Some Pentagon atomic specialists said today they believe the Soviet Union would get more propaganda mileage than military value out of any super nuclear bomb with the blast power of 100-million tons of TNT.

U.S. officials have been discussing the possibilities ever since Soviet Premier Khrushchev claimed three weeks ago that his scientists were prepared to develop such a suprbomb.

There was no sign that the United States, which is believed to have H-bombs up to 20 megatons, was being stampeded into a race with the Soviets to get the monster weapon first.

MORE DESTRUCTIVE RANGE

"The propaganda value is greater than anything else," one official said when told of the Soviet announcement of plans to push ahead with creation of a superbomb.

U.S. atomic experts stress that there is no arithmetic progression in the effectiveness of nuclear weapons — that a 100-megaton bomb such as the Soviets are talking about would not devastate a five times greater area than a 20-megaton weapon. According to some estimates, the destruction range would be about double and the total area of destruction about four times as great.

The key, they say, is the efficiency of the bomb — and they claim the American nuclear bombs are very efficient. Available officials could give no information on the efficiency of Soviet nuclear weapons.

NO REASON TO BOMB

One source familiar with the views of military atomic scientists said, "We have the capacity and we have the manufacturing processes" to go ahead with a superbomb, but "our people said there is no point" in doing so.

"What's the sense of killing a city twice?" was the way it was put.

What was meant was that 20-megaton weapons already are considered big enough to lay waste any target.

NEW YORK (AP)—Eder Jofre, world bantamweight champion who won the same designation for July, again was named "Fighter of the Month" by Ring Magazine in its August ratings released today.

Jofre retained his unbeaten status by knocking out Ramon Arias in Caracas in successfully defending his crown.

The runnerup spot goes to NBA light heavyweight champion Harold Johnson for his victory in a title match Tuesday night over Eddie Cotton in Seattle.

BULLETS OPEN GRID DRILLS THIS FRIDAY

Approximately 40 candidates will be on hand for the opening of pre-season football drills Friday at Gettysburg College, it was announced today by Head Coach Gene Haas.

The Bullets will inaugurate sessions Friday morning and will continue with two-a-day until the opening of school. Haas announced that morning sessions will be held from 9 to 12 o'clock with the afternoon workouts being conducted from 3 to 6 o'clock.

Unusually stiff workouts are scheduled for the next two weeks. The Bullets open their season Saturday, September 16, when they oppose the University of Buffalo at Buffalo.

15 LETTERMEN

Gettysburg will have 15 lettermen returning to form a nucleus for the 1961 squad. Sophomores will be called upon to bolster the depth which is lacking at many positions, particularly at halfback and guard.

The Bullet staff was dealt a blow when it learned that Roger Gaackler, Glen Rock, contracted lockjaw during the mid-summer and will be out for half the season. Gaackler is an experienced Junior end, 6'4" and weighs 210 pounds. Bill Slezak, 6'1", 219, from Ridley Park, will be out of action all year. The Sophomore guard broke his arm during spring drills and it has not responded to treatment.

PIRATES BEAT REDS; BRAVES BOW TO GIANTS

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Tom Sturdivant, an American League castoff, gained his fourth victory in five decisions and allowed only four hits for his fifth straight complete game as Pittsburgh defeated Cincinnati 3-1 Wednesday night.

That ended the Reds' brief winning streak at three and trimmed their National League lead to 2½ games over the second place Los Angeles Dodgers, who whipped the Chicago Cubs 5-2. San Francisco, after losing five in a row, regained third place from Milwaukee by beating the Braves 2-1. Philadelphia defeated St. Louis, 4-3.

STRIKES OUT FIVE

Sturdivant, 31, struck out five and just missed a second straight shutout.

After giving up an unearned run in the second inning, on Gordy Coleman's single, his lone walk and a two-out error, Sturdy retired 20 n a row before giving up singles by Coleman and Jerry Lynch with two out in the ninth. Then he got Gus Bell on a game-ending grounder.

The Pirates beat Bob Purkey (14-10) with two runs in the first inning. Bill Virdon's leadoff single, Dick Groat's triple and a wild pitch did it.

The Angels did it with two-run homers by Charlie Neal and Norm Sherry and the strikeout pitching of Larry Sherry, who fanned seven of the nine Cubs he faced in three innings of hitless relief. Southpaw Johnny Podres (17-4) was the winner. Dick Ellsworth (7-9) was the loser.

GET FOUR HITS

San Francisco managed only four hits, but paired two of them, a double by Joe Amalfitano and a triple by Willie McCovey, with an infield out for two runs in the fourth inning off Carl Willey (5 Mike McCormick (11-13) was the winner.

The last place Phils blew a 2-0 lead, but cracked a 3-3 tie with two out in the eighth inning on Don Demeter's RBI double, his second of the game off Card ace Ray Sadecki (12-7). Don Ferrarese (3-9) was the winner in relief.

SETS MARK IN HAMBLETONIAN

By CHARLES CHAMBERLAIN

Associated Press Sports Writer

DU QUOIN, Ill. (AP) — Frosting to a record week can be added today for Del Miller, veteran harness racing trainer-driver, if Hambletonian Society directors vote to keep the 3-year-old trotting classic at the Du Quoin State Fair Grounds.

Miller, 48-year-old baron of Meadow Lands Farm in Pennsylvania, is part owner of Harlan Dean with Max Hempt and Royal Cleveland.

RECORD PERFORMANCE

Harlan Dean, driven by Miller's long-time assistant, Jimmy Arthur, Wednesday won the Hambletonian with a record performance of successive mile heats in 1:58.25 and 1:59.

Miller today will head a behind-the-scenes fight to keep an eastern bloc of Hambletonian directors from voting to move the premier grand circuit event from Du Quoin to Vernon Downs in upstate New York.

Lopez Mentioned As Orioles' Pilot

DETROIT (AP) — Al Lopez, who managed the Chicago White Sox to their first pennant in 40 years in 1959, is reported under consideration as Paul Richards' successor as manager of the Baltimore Orioles. Richards has accepted the general managership at Houston.

A reliable source told The Associated Press Wednesday night that White Sox Manager Lopez was contacted by Richards himself regarding the Baltimore post.

STAN MUSIAL SAYS HE WILL PLAY 22ND YEAR

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Stan Musial, the St. Louis Cardinals' star, says he will play baseball again next year for his 22nd season in the major leagues.

The left-handed slugging outfielder-first baseman who started his baseball career in his native Donora, Pa., as a pitcher, was honored Wednesday at a luncheon by the Philadelphia Sports Writers Association.

Referring to the two new teams which will come into the National League in 1962, Houston and New York, Musial said:

"I'll be anxious to see what I can do next year in New York."

Then he added:

"But I am coming back. The biggest kick I get out of baseball is putting on the uniform each day. As long as I can be an asset to the Cardinals I want to keep playing. Baseball has done a lot for me. It has been my life."

"MORE GOOD PLAYERS"

Musial said that baseball has improved "not only in conditions for the player in my time, including the pension, but there are more good players around today."

The 40-year-old Musial, who holds a host of records and how has passed the 3,000 mark in hits, has not played regularly in the past two years. Former St. Louis manager Solly Hemus took him out of the lineup from time to time to rest him. He currently is batting .281.

The Cardinals' star was presented with a champagne bucket by the sportswriters. He was praised in brief talks by Cardinals manager Johnny Keane; Philadelphia Manager Gene Mauch; Frank Slocum, representing Baseball Commissioner Ford Frick; and columnist Ed Pollock of the Philadelphia Evening Bulletin, who made the presentation.

PRACTICE GOOD IN PRESEASON

CLEVELAND (AP) — Football coaches take note: If you want your players to hear up well physically during the season, give them lots of preseason conditioning.

That, in essence, was the conclusion — from a coach's point of view — of a report given by a Mayo Clinic physician to the American Congress of Physical Medicine and Rehabilitation at group's 39th annual scientific and clinical session here.

COMPOSED TWO GROUPS

Dr. Joseph A. Honet, fellow in physical medicine and rehabilitation, Mayo Foundation, Rochester, Minn., compared the performance of two groups of football players at John Marshall High School in Rochester. Eighteen players participated in five one-half hour workouts a week from late July into the regular season. A group of 15 began the same workouts at the beginning of the regular season early in September.

The pre-conditioned group showed considerably greater strength and endurance at the beginning of the season and throughout the schedule, Dr. Honet said.

3 ARE CHARGED IN KIDNAPPING

MONROE, N.C. (AP) — Two Negroes and a white youth were charged Wednesday night with kidnapping in the seizure of an elderly white couple during the height of racial tension here last Sunday.

A Union County grand jury Monday had indicted Robert F. Williams, 36, a Monroe Negro, on the capital crime of kidnapping in the same case.

Authorities said Wednesday night three members of the Monroe Non-Violent Action Committee also have been charged with kidnapping. They were identified as Richard Crowder, 19, Negro, of Monroe, president of the nonviolent group; Harold Reep, 18, also a Monroe Negro, and John Cecil Lowry, 20, a white of the Bronx, N.Y.

All three were being held without bond.

Mr. and Mrs. G. Bruce Stegall of Marshall were taken from their car by 200 armed Negroes, held hostage for 2½ hours and released unharmed. The kidnapping charges grew out of this episode.

GUBNER TRIES FOR TRIPLE IN ISRAEL GAMES

By MURRAY ROSE

Associated Press Sports Writer

TEL AVIV, Israel (AP) — Gary Gubner, New York University's 19-year-old Samson, was rated a cinch today to score a triple slam in record fashion in the sixth Maccabiah games.

The powerful sophomore may have company in another NYU Violet, graduate Steve Darnashek. Their record smashing victories in the discus throw and 400-meter run Wednesday helped atone a bit for disappointing defeats for the heavily manned Yanks in the 100-meter sprint and high jump.

Gubner, 6-2, 250-pounder, set one of the seven track and field records for the Jewish Olympics with a discus throw of 164 feet, 4½ in. Darnashek copped the 400 meter title over teammate Art Gardszwart of Arizona University in 48.8 seconds, his best time ever.

2 CROWN ATTEMPTS

Both have their best events coming up. Gubner, a 60-foot plus shot-putter, competes in his specialty today. Then he goes for the heavyweight lifting crown Sunday, where he far outclasses the field.

Darnashek, a rugged six-footer, will try to complete his triple Sunday. He is entered in the 400-meter hurdles, his pet race, and the 1,600-meter relay in which the United States is heavily favored.

Stan Levinson, Toronto salesman and 1956 Olympian, nipped Jonas Spiegel of U. of Maryland, and Stan Freed, of Temple, in the last stride in winning the 100 meters in 10.6. Saul Levy, French dark horse, and favored Gene Zubrinsky, of San Jose State, each broke the games record with a high jump of 6-4½ but Levy won on fewer misses.

BIG PROGRAM AT LINCOLN OVER HOLIDAY

Leading leadfoots from Port Royal Speedway have signified their intentions of competing on the jalopy stock car racing program Saturday at 8 p.m. at Lincoln Speedway.

Frankie Thompson, Troy Funk and Leroy Felty are among the top drivers from the well-known upstate track who will be on hand for the sportsman-modified competition.

As a result, Johnny Mackinson will be hard-pressed as he goes after his sixth straight feature triumph.

Lincoln also will open its gates Monday afternoon for a double-top session in which the S-M feature has been extended to 35 laps. The first race begins at 2 p.m.

Several added attractions are on the calendar. A fireworks display will be held at intermission on Saturday. Kart racing and a destruction derby will be extras for fans who turn out Monday afternoon.

SOVIET TESTS ANGER GROUP AT BELGRADE

BELGRADE, Yugoslavia (AP) — The Soviet decision to resume nuclear testing shocked representatives of 24 nonaligned nations gathering here today for a summit conference. Some called it "a slap in the face" to the Belgrade conference.

Bitterest comment came over the timing of the Soviet statement on the eve of the talks here. Disarmament is one of the main issues to be discussed.

"It was astonishing — even shocking — for the Kremlin to announce such a step on the eve of our conference," said one Asian delegate. "I'm sure some of our leaders will have things to say about this from the conference rostrum."

NEHRU ANGRY

Indian Prime Minister Nehru, who has long campaigned for nuclear and other disarmament, is expected to be especially angry. Nehru plans to go to Moscow Sept. 6 after the conference. Several Asians said he will probably raise the question of nuclear testing with Soviet Premier Khrushchev.

The Yugoslav government newspaper Borba published the Kremlin's announcement on an inside page, without comment. Borba also published President Kennedy's message to the conference, using both the text and Five and Six will then move to the Maple Ave. building.

OSLO (AP)—Disgruntled commuters on Oslo's suburban Baerum Line got fed up Wednesday with seeing express trains whiz past them nearly empty while they waited for the crammed chug-alongs to pick them up.

Thirty passengers at Haslum Station lined up on the track, stopped the express and refused to move until they were let aboard the train.

The municipally owned railway company said it would look into their complaint. But meanwhile, the company said, the expresses will continue to pass up the commuting stops — if no one blocks the tracks.

Big Double Paid At Shenandoah

CHARLES TOWN, W. Va. —

Alfred W. Williams' Tacaro Ace, a recent acquisition via the claim box, will attempt to make it two in a row at Shenandoah Downs tonight, taking on seven top-flight claimers in the Glade Valley Purse.

David Jin, the Chinese apprentice from Chicago, rode the first winner of his career Wednesday night at the Downs, getting Sun Castle home on top at 12-1 in the first race to set up a $270.60 daily double.

William Boniface's Bloomfield 2nd completed the combination, leading all the way in the second race under gentle urging by Carl Gambardella. Bloomfield 2nd was winning his first race after finishing second three straight times at the meeting, and paid $9.20, $3.60 and $3.00.

YANKEES MORE WORRIED OVER WINNING FLAG

MINNEAPOLIS-ST. PAUL (AP)

—Mickey Mantle had just swatted his 47th home run, but there was little talk in the Yankee dressing room about that. Everyone was more concerned over how second place Detroit came out with Chicago.

Most of the Yankees had left the dressing room when the final score was posted: Chicago 7, Detroit 4.

That, coupled with New York's 4-0 victory over the Minnesota Twins behind the four-hit pitching of Bill Stafford Wednesday night, put the Yanks 2½ games ahead of the Tigers.

"WIN THE PENNANT"

"There isn't much talk about the home runs," explained Yankee Manager Ralph Houk. "The boys are more interested in winning the pennant."

That feeling carries even to statistician Bill Kane, who makes no mention in his press sheet of how close Mantle and Roger Maris, who has 51 roundtrippers, are to Babe Ruth's record 60 homers.

The pennant fever was best exhibited Wednesday night by Maris who risked injury sliding hard into Minnesota second baseman Billy Martin when Martin was attempting to complete a double play. The ball sailed into the Twins' dugout and resulted in the Yanks' first run.

WILL TAKE CHANCES

"I had to take my chances with an injury," said Maris. "The score was 0-0 at the time and if I could upset the double play, that meant a possible run. We're out to win the pennant and any records will be incidental."

Houk said he felt no concern at the slide, but "I would have if he hadn't tried to break up the play. These guys are all professionals now. They should know how to slide."

SAYS SOVIETS PROPAGANDIZE NUCLEAR BOMB

WASHINGTON (AP) — Some

Pentagon atomic specialists said today they believe the Soviet Union would get more propaganda mileage than military value out of any super nuclear bomb with the blast power of 100-million tons of TNT.

U.S. officials have been discussing the possibilities ever since Soviet Premier Khrushchev claimed three weeks ago that his scientists were prepared to develop such a superbomb.

There was no sign that the United States, which is believed to have H-bombs up to 20 megatons, was being stampeded into a race with the Soviets to get the monster weapon first.

MORE DESTRUCTIVE RANGE

"The propaganda value is greater than anything else," one official said when told of the Soviet announcement of plans to push ahead with creation of a superbomb.

U.S. atomic experts stress that there is no arithmetic progression in the effectiveness of nuclear weapons — that a 100-megaton bomb such as the Soviets are talking about would not devastate a five times greater area than a 20-megaton weapon. According to some estimates, the destruction range would be about double and the total area of destruction about four times as great.

The key, they say, is the efficiency of the bomb—and they claim the American nuclear bombs are very efficient. Available officials could give no information on the efficiency of Soviet nuclear weapons.

NO REASON TO BOMB

One source familiar with the views of military atomic specialists said, "We have the capacity and we have the manufacturing processes" to go ahead with a superbomb, but "our people said there is no point" in doing so.

"What's the sense of killing a city twice?" was the way it was put.

What was meant was that 20-megaton weapons already are considered big enough to lay waste any target.

NEW YORK (AP)—Eder Jofre, world bantamweight champion who won the same designation for July, again was named "Fighter of the Month" by Ring Magazine in its August ratings released today.

Jofre retained his unbeaten status by knocking out Ramon Arias in Caracas in successfully defending his crown.

The runnerup spot goes to NBA light heavyweight champion, Harold Johnson for his victory in a title match Tuesday night over Eddie Cotton in Seattle.

BULLETS OPEN GRID DRILLS THIS FRIDAY

Approximately 48 candidates will be on hand for the opening of pre-season football drills Friday at Gettysburg College, it was announced today by Head Coach Gene Haas.

The Bullets will inaugurate sessions Friday morning and will continue with two-a-day until the opening of school. Haas announced that morning sessions will be held from 9 to 12 o'clock with the afternoon workouts being conducted from 3 to 6 o'clock.

Unusually stiff workouts are scheduled for the next two weeks. The Bullets open their season Saturday, September 16, when they oppose the University of Buffalo at Buffalo.

15 LETTERMEN

Gettysburg will have 15 lettermen returning to form a nucleus for the 1961 squad. Sophomores will be called upon to bolster the depth which is lacking at many positions, particularly at halfback and guard.

The Bullet staff was dealt a blow when it learned that Roger Gaackler, Glen Rock, contracted lockjaw during the mid-summer and will be out for half the season. Gaackler is an experienced Junior end, 6'4" and weighs 210 pounds. Bill Slezak, 6'1", 219, from Ridley Park, will be out of action all year. The Sophomore guard broke his arm during spring drills and it has not responded to treatment.

PIRATES BEAT REDS; BRAVES BOW TO GIANTS

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Tom Sturdivant, an American League castoff, gained his fourth victory in five decisions and allowed only four hits for his fifth straight complete game as Pittsburgh defeated Cincinnati 3-1 Wednesday night.

That ended the Reds' brief winning streak at three and trimmed their National League lead to 2½ games over the second place Los Angeles Dodgers, who whipped the Chicago Cubs 5-2. San Francisco, after losing five in a row, regained third place from Milwaukee by beating the Braves 2-1. Philadelphia defeated St. Louis, 4-3.

STRIKES OUT FIVE

Sturdivant, 31, struck out five and just missed a second straight shutout.

After giving up an unearned run in the second inning, on Gordy Coleman's single, his lone walk and a two-out error, Sturdy retired 20 in a row before giving up singles by Coleman and Jerry Lynch with two out in the ninth. Then he got Gus Bell on a game-ending grounder.

The Pirates beat Bob Purkey (14-10) with two runs in the first inning. Bill Virdon's leadoff single, Dick Groat's triple and a wild pitch did it.

The Angels did it with two-run homers by Charlie Neal and Norm Sherry and the strikeout pitching of Larry Sherry, who fanned seven of the nine Cubs he faced in three innings of hitless relief. Southpaw Johnny Podres (17-4) was the winner. Dick Ellisworth (7-9) was the loser.

GET FOUR HITS

San Francisco managed only four hits, but paired two of them, a double by Joe Amalfitano and a triple by Willie McCovey, with an infield out for two runs in the fourth inning off Carl Willey (5 Mike McCormick (11-13) was the winner.

The last place Phils blew a 2-0 lead, but cracked a 3-3 tie with two out in the eighth inning on Don Demeter's RBI double, his second of the game off Card ace Ray Sadecki (12-7). Don Ferrarese (3-9) was the winner in relief.

SETS MARK IN HAMBLETONIAN

Associated Press Sports Writer

DU QUOIN, Ill. (AP) — Frosting to a record week can be added today for Del Miller, veteran harness racing trainer-driver, if Hambletonian Society directors vote to keep the 3-year-old trotting classic at the Du Quoin State Fair Grounds.

Miller, 48-year-old baron of Meadow Lands Farm in Pennsylvania, is part owner of Harlan Dean with Max Hempt and Royal Cleveland.

RECORD PERFORMANCE
Harlan Dean, driven by Miller's long-time assistant, Jimmy Arthur, Wednesday won the Hambletonian with a record performance of successive mile heats in 1:58.2-5 and 1:59.

Miller today will head a behind-the-scenes fight to keep an eastern bloc of Hambletonian directors from voting to move the premier grand circuit event from Du Quoin to Vernon Downs in upstate New York.

3 ARE CHARGED IN KIDNAPPING

MONROE N.C. (AP)—Two Negroes and a white youth were charged Wednesday night with kidnapping in the seizure of an elderly white couple during the height of racial tension here last Sunday.

A Union County grand jury Monday had indicted Robert F. Williams, 36, a Monroe Negro, on the capital crime of kidnapping in the same case.

Authorities said Wednesday night three members of the Monroe Non-Violent Action Committee also have been charged with kidnapping. They were identified as Richard Crowder, 19, Negro, of Monroe, president of the nonviolent group; Harold Reep, 18, also a Monroe Negro, and John Cecil Lowry, 20, a white of the Bronx, N.Y.

All three were being held without bond.

Mr. and Mrs. G. Bruce Stegall of Marshallville were taken from their car by 200 armed Negroes, held hostage for 2½ hours and released unharmed. The kidnapping charges grew out of this episode.

ADVERTISE IN THE TIMES

DETROIT (AP) — Al Lopez,

who managed the Chicago White Sox to their first pennant in 40 years in 1959, is reported under consideration as Paul Richards' successor as manager of the Baltimore Orioles. Richards has accepted the general managership at Houston.

A reliable source told The Associated Press Wednesday night that White Sox Manager Lopez was contacted by Richards himself regarding the Baltimore post.

STAN MUSIAL SAYS HE WILL PLAY 22ND YEAR

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Stan

Musial, the St. Louis Cardinals star, says he will play baseball again next year for his 22nd season in the major leagues.

The left-handed slugging outfielder-first baseman who started his baseball career in his native Donora, Pa., as a pitcher, was honored Wednesday at a luncheon by the Philadelphia Sportswriters Association.

Referring to the two new teams which will come into the National League in 1962, Houston and New York, Musial said:

"I'll be anxious to see what I can do next year in New York."

Then he added:

"But I am coming back. The biggest kick I get out of baseball is putting on the uniform each day. As long as I can be an asset to the Cardinals I want to keep playing. Baseball has done a lot for me. It has been my life."

"MORE GOOD PLAYERS"

Musial said that baseball has improved "not only in conditions for the player in my time, including the pension, but there are more good players around today."

The 40-year-old Musial, who holds a host of records and has passed the 3,000 mark in hits, has not played regularly in the past two years. Former St. Louis manager Solly Hemus took him out of the lineup from time to time to rest him. He currently is batting .281.

The Cardinals' star was presented with a champagne bucket by the sportswriters. He was praised in brief talks by Cardinals manager Johnny Keane; Philadelphia Manager Gene Mauch; Frank Stocum, representing Baseball Commissioner Ford Frick; and columnist Ed Pollock of the Philadelphia Evening Bulletin, who made the presentation.

Leading leadfoots from Port Royal Speedway have signified their intentions of competing on the jolopy stock car racing program Saturday at 8 p.m. at Lincoln Speedway.

Frankie Thompson, Troy Funk and Leroy Felty are among the top drivers from the well-known upstate track who will be on hand for the sportsman-modified competition.

As a result, Johnny Mackinson will be hard-pressed as he goes after his sixth straight feature triumph.

PRACTICE GOOD IN PRESEASON

CLEVELAND (AP) — Football coaches take note: If you want your players to hear up well physically during the season, give them lots of preseason conditioning.

That, in essence, was the conclusion — from a coach's point of view — of a report given by a Mayo Clinic physician to the American Congress of Physical Medicine and Rehabilitation at group's 39th annual scientific and clinical session here.

Dr. Joseph A. Honet, fellow in physical medicine and rehabilitation, Mayo Foundation, Rochester, Minn., compared the performance of two groups of football players at John Marshall High School in Rochester. Eighteen players participated in five one-half hour workouts a week from late July into the regular season. A group of 15 began the same workouts at the beginning of the regular season early in September.

The pre-conditioned group showed considerably greater strength and endurance at the beginning of the season and throughout the schedule, Dr. Honet said.

Several added attractions are on the calendar. A fireworks display will be held at intermission on Saturday. Kart racing and a destruction derby will be extras for fans who turn out Monday afternoon.

Lincoln also will open its gates Monday afternoon for a double-point session in which the S-M feature has been extended to 35 laps. The first race begins at 2 p.m.

Today's Talk

IN CONDITION

I have noticed that those who accomplish most are those frequently those with the soundest background.

Life in itself is very big. And the more you put back into life the greater does that mysterious urge arise within you which makes you want to live better and bigger.

It isn't so much what you say, or do—but what you are that counts in the important summing up of values.

It's so much a matter of conditioning that makes one man rise where the other falls.

It takes continual sacrifice, giving up, overlooking, to warm a great heart. And there mustn't be any loose ends, no neglecting of vital needs. For it is upon the reserves of a well ordered life that a man must depend during the pinches.

If you keep your body, your mind, and your heart all in tune you will never find yourself pulling against yourself.

It's condition that tells the tale in an important athletic event as well as in an important life event.

Know the burn of failure, the bitterness of betrayal, the loss of friendship and you will be able to appreciate the gold of success, loyalty and love.

Keep yourself in condition and you will be fit for any call.

Tomorrow Mr. Adams will talk on the subject: "Fulfillment"

Just Folks

THE GAY SEASON

Oh, I'm glad that I am living,
For the world's a jolly place;
I have reasons for thanksgiving
And the smiles that wreath my face.I have reasons to be merry
And no longer will I sob;
For today I'm happy, very,
Eating corn upon the cob.Oh, the summer joys are many;
There's the charm of azure skies,
And of sorrow there's not any,
There's a twinkle in my eyes.There's a twinkle that is merry,
There's a joy that none may rob;
For today I'm happy, very,
Eating corn upon the cob.Oh, this life is full of pleasure,
With a mixture now of pain;
There is illness in the measure,
There is sorrow in the grain;But if every sickness claims me
I shall only sigh and sob;
That the season when it claims me
Corn is smiling on the cob.

Army Officers "Appreciate" Chamber Offer: Invitations from the Gettysburg Chamber of Commerce sent recently to Army post commanders in this section of the country to visit Gettysburg either on tactical moves in connection with Army training or on pleasure trips or smaller groups on leave duty have brought appreciative responses from headquarters of eight nearby military organizations.

Several state that Gettysburg may be visited during future maneuvers and its offered facilities put to use in that manner while others state arrangements are being made to have the boys visit the battlefield and see what a wonderful place Gettysburg is.

New Physician Opens Office: Dr. Raymond F. Sheely opened an office today for the general practice of medicine at 267 Baltimore street. He is a son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles M. Sheely, 3000 Ave. Lee, Saturday he and Miss Margaret Zinn, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. John B. Zinn, West Broadway, were married.

Doctor Sheely graduated from Gettysburg High School in 1929 and from Gettysburg College in 1933. He graduated from the University of Pennsylvania Medical School in 1937. There he was elected to the Alpha Omega Alpha honorary medical fraternity and was awarded the Lowbrey prize in pediatrics. His internship was served at the University of Pennsylvania hospital and last year he held a fellowship in the graduate study of medicine at Jefferson college.

During the last year of his resident year-long, a medical paper of which he was co-author was published in the Journal of the American Medical Association after its presentation before the College of Physicians in Philadelphia.

2 Countians Naturalized On Saturday: Two countians were naturalized as American citizens at a special session of naturalization court here Saturday while cases of two other aliens seeking citizenship were continued until the regular session of naturalization court next June.

The oath of allegiance was taken before Judge W. C. Sheely by Christos Demetrios Fourias, a Greek and one of the owners of the F. and T. Restaurant on York street, and Agnes Armandine Chevillard, Mt. Pleasant township, who renounced French citizenship.

Petitions of Madeline Lazos, Gettysburg, a Greek and Charles Mathews Townsend, York Springs, an Englishman, were continued until next year while further information is gathered in those cases.

Vertebra In Neck Broken: An X-ray examination at the Annie M. Warner hospital on Saturday revealed that an injury Mrs. C. Harold Johnson, Chambersburg street, sustained three weeks before at Banff, province of Alberta, Canada, was a fractured vertebra of the neck.

The accident occurred while Dr. and Mrs. Johnson were riding in a sightseeing motor launch at the Canadian resort while on their vacation. The launch struck an overhanging bough of a tree while making a turn, causing the roof of the overstructure to collapse. A heavy piece of the roof struck Mrs. Johnson, who was seated in the boat, on the head. She was treated at the hospital in Banff but no sign of serious injury was apparent.

Dr. and Mrs. Johnson continued their trip to Seattle where they visited Dr. Johnson's sister. The injury did not cause any pain until last week and on Saturday when Mrs. Johnson had X-rays taken at the Warner hospital the broken vertebra was revealed. A neck brace was prescribed.

WHAT PRICE PROTEINS? It is estimated that a preponderance of women do not get sufficient amounts of protein.

And the consequence is something to ponder as proteins are the building blocks of health, energy and beauty.

The deficiency is due mainly to a misconception about the cost and variety of protein foods.

People associate proteins with expensive steaks and chops. Yet there are numerous, low-priced foods that yield as much or more of the nutrient as those in higher brackets.

For example, chipped beef offers almost a third more protein than rib roast, ounce for ounce. Nor is meat the only source.

Whopping amounts of high-quality protein come in fish, fowl, cheese, milk, eggs and wheat germ.

Many additional foods also supply protein. But some of them provide insignificant quantities, and at higher calorie counts.

Others offer a very low-grade of protein. To be graded as high-quality, protein must contain 20 of the 22 amino acids. All of them are necessary to your well-being.

To insure a healthful intake, and whether or not you are reducing, just include the following foods in your daily bill-of-fare: One egg, two glasses of milk (skim or whole); one serving of meat or fowl; one serving of fish or cheese. You really cannot afford not to!

Determined Khrushchev May End Berlin Parley Shuffle

By JAMES MARLOW
Associated Press News Analyst
WASHINGTON (AP)—If speed were a meal-ticket, the diplomats would starve to death. For three years both sides have been in a slow dance on Berlin, pausing to parley. Now the music begins again.

This time the tune is a little different, more somber, because Premier Khrushchev sounds more determined. But once again the foreign ministers are beginning to shuffle toward another parley.

TAKE TURN ABOUT

But, as Khrushchev has kept on piling up the Berlin crisis, Secretary of State Dean Rusk has kept saying there'd be negotiations to settle the whole thing peacefully. Khrushchev has kept the door open for negotiations.

But slow as it all is French President De Gaulle waited it still slower. He was against hurrying into a conference with the Soviets. So a kind of compromise was worked out.

In September the West's Big Four ministers—American, British, French, West German—are expected to meet in this country to decide how to handle Khrushchev. Then they'll contact his foreign minister, Andrei Gromyko.

CABLE TOO FAST

The purpose: to see whether he thinks East-West talks would be worthwhile. It would be much simpler to send him a cable, asking that question, but apparently cables move too fast.

But one thing's for sure: If the foreign ministers—the Western ones by themselves or the Western ones with Gromyko—duplicate their performance of the past two years the answer will be a big, fat zero and maybe real trouble.

Khrushchev started the trouble in November 1958, when he called for the West to get out of Berlin. Between then and May 1959 both sides had time to figure out a settlement—if they wanted one. Apparently they didn't.

CONFESSED CONFUSION

The American, British and French foreign ministers met with Gromyko from May to August 1959, but they not only couldn't agree, they wound up in confessed confusion.

French Foreign Minister Couve de Murville said of Gromyko's tactics: "We are in complete confusion. We have reached a point at which neither side knows what the other is talking about."

The Westerners proposed, among other things, that Khrushchev agree to unification of East and West Germany. It didn't need a magician to know that's the last thing to which Khrushchev would let Gromyko agree.

HOPELESS TANGLE

So Gromyko said the Western proposals were a "hopeless tangle of unrelated issues." The West also wanted a five-year extension of the present Berlin situation. Russia offered only 18 months, with no promise of what happened afterwards.

This was such a total mess that, to calm down Khrushchev, President Eisenhower invited him to this country. After the two men met at Camp David they agreed to have a summit meeting in Paris May 16, 1960.

So, with more months in which to prepare for this, the Western foreign ministers by themselves met in April 1960. Their purpose, then as now, was to work out strategy for handling Khrushchev.

NO NEW IDEAS

The result: no new ideas. What they decided, if summed up in two words, was: Stand pat. This hardly set the stage for an amicable get-together with the Russians.

But an amicable get-together seemed to be all that De Gaulle and Eisenhower wanted. Both men in public statements played down the idea of solutions and talked of laying the groundwork for better East-West relations. But then the shooting down of Mrs. Jack Heebner received the American U2 spy plane threw Khrushchev into such a tizzy that he wrecked the summit conference as soon as it started. This was the speediest piece of diplomatic business in years.

But in 1958, 1959 and 1960 the West had better reason to think it could stall off Khrushchev than it has now. Then he was just talking big. Now he has shut off East Berlin and in effect tells the West it had better talk turkey in 1961.

Trailer Tax Bill Gets Approval

HARRISBURG (AP)—Final legislative approval was given Tuesday to a package of bills extending property taxes on house trailers.

The House concurred in Senate changes to the package, with one exception.

The exception was a bill that would have permitted assessment of mobile homes for taxes levied under the 1947 "tax-anything" law. The Senate boosted the limit of the proposed tax to $5.

This bill will go to a joint House-Senate conference committee in an attempt to work out the differences between the two chambers.

The other measures in the package go to Gov. Lawrence.

They extend the taxes to house trailers, or mobile homes, attached to utilities. Trailers now are taxed generally only where they are permanently attached to the land.

The first of the Rangers was launched Aug. 23. Seamans said that the acceleration of the Ranger program is generally designed to land an American on the moon by 1970.

Determined Khrushchev May End Berlin Parley Shuffle

By JAMES MARLOW
Associated Press News Analyst
WASHINGTON (AP)—If speed were a meal-ticket, the diplomats would starve to death. For three years both sides have been in a slow dance of Berlin, pausing to parley. Now the music begins again.

This time the tune is a little different, more somber, because Premier Khrushchev sounds more determined. But once again the foreign ministers are beginning to shuffle toward another parley.

Whether this means another full-blown and long-drawn out foreign ministers meeting or just a short one to be followed by another summit conference won't be known for a while.

TAKE TURN ABOUT
But as Khrushchev has kept on pulling up the Berlin crisis, Secretary of State Dean Rusk has kept saying there'd be negotiations to settle the whole thing peacefully. Khrushchev has kept the door open for negotiations.

But slow as it is, French President De Gaulle wanted it still slower. He was against hurrying into a conference with the Soviets. So a kind of compromise was worked out.

In September the West's Big Four ministers—American, British, French, West German—agreed to meet in this country to decide how to handle Khrushchev. Then they'll contact his foreign minister, Andrei Gromyko.

CABLE TOO FAST
The purpose is to see whether he thinks East-West talks would be worthwhile. It would be much simpler to send him a cable asking that question, but apparently cables move too fast.

But one thing is sure. If the foreign ministers—the Western ones by themselves or the Western ones with Gromyko—duplicate their performance of the past two years the answer will be a big fat zero and maybe real trouble.

Khrushchev started the trouble in November 1958, when he called for the West to get out of Berlin. Between then and May 1959 both sides had time to figure out a settlement—if they wanted one. Apparently they didn't.

CONFESSED CONFUSION
The American, British and French foreign ministers met with Gromyko from May to August 1959, but they not only couldn't agree, they wound up in confessed confusion.

French Foreign Minister Couve de Murville said of Gromyko's tactics: "We are in complete confusion. We have reached a point at which neither side knows what the other is talking about."

The Westerners proposed, among other things, that Khrushchev agree to unification of East and West Germany. It didn't need a magician to know that's the last thing to which Khrushchev would let Gromyko agree.

HOPELESS TANGLE
So Gromyko said the Western proposals were a "hopeless tangle of unrelated issues." The West also wanted a five-year extension of the present Berlin situation. Russia offered only 18 months with no promise of what happened afterwards.

This was such a total mess that to calm down Khrushchev, President Eisenhower invited him to this country. After the two men met at Camp David they agreed to have a summit meeting in Paris May 16, 1960.

So with more months in which to prepare for this Western summit, the Westerners by themselves met in April 1960. Their purpose then was to work out a strategy for handling Khrushchev.

NO NEW IDEAS
The Westerners had no new ideas. What they decided was to sum up in two words: Stand firm. This was the code to an amicable get-together with the Russians.

But an amicable get-together seemed to be all that De Gaulle and Eisenhower wanted. Both men in public statements played down the idea of solutions and talked of laying the groundwork for better East-West relations.

But then the shooting down of the American U-2 spy plane threw Khrushchev into such a tizzy that he wrecked the summit conference as soon as it started. This was the speediest piece of diplomatic business in years.

But in 1958-1959 and 1960 the West had better reason to think it could stall off Khrushchev than it has now. Then he was just talking big. Now he has shut off East Berlin and in effect tells the West he had better talk turkey in 1961.

Trailer Tax Bill Gets Approval
HARRISBURG (AP)—Final legislative approval was given Tuesday to a package of bills extending property taxes on house trailers.

The House concurred in Senate changes to the package, with one exception.

The exception was a bill that would have permitted assessment of mobile homes for taxes levied under the 1947 "tax-anything" law. The Senate boosted the limit of the proposed tax to $5.

This bill will go to a joint House-Senate conference committee in an attempt to work out the differences between the two chambers.

The other measures in the package go to Gov. Lawrence.

They extend the taxes to house trailers, or mobile homes, attached to utilities. Trailers now are taxed generally only where

Moon Fleet Gets 4 More TV Craft
PASADENA, Calif. (AP) — A U. S. space agency official says four more Ranger spacecraft have been ordered for close-up television exploration of the moon.

Dr. Robert C. Seamans Jr., associate administrator of the National Aeronautics and Space Administration, said Tuesday that addition of the four $20-million craft will hike the total program to nine spacecraft. Cal Tech's jet propulsion laboratory builds them.

Positive about being negative
Occasionally a customer asks us for some medication he's read about. And we must refuse him. The reason is that the particular medicine must be taken under a physician's supervision and is available only on prescription. This is a safeguard to your health. As your pharmacist, we suggest you see a physician if you feel you need potent medication. We'll be happy to fill his prescription. Till then, perhaps our greatest service is saying "No."

Don't tell HIM our traffic laws are too tough!
His wife was out with the two children, driving to the supermarket. On a busy boulevard, a drunken driver lost control of his speeding car and crashed into them. In one dreadful moment, he lost all three loved ones!

He doesn't think our laws are too tough! As long as a drunk will drive that way, and think he can get away with it, the laws aren't tough enough.

During the three-day Labor Day weekend, streets and highways will be crowded with automobiles. If you're driving, be sure you obey all the laws... they're made to help save lives. DRIVE TO STAY ALIVE!

Pendleton Bill Would Add 34 House Seats To Relieve Redistricting Problems

By JOHN KOENIG Jr.
Associated Press Special Service
WASHINGTON (AP)—With the endorsement of the Pennsylvania State Republican committee, a GP committeeman from Montgomery county has urged congressional approval of a bill to add 34 new house members.

Philip C. Pendleton, Bryn Athyn attorney and former treasurer of the University of Pennsylvania, pointed out in testimony before the House Judiciary Committee that such legislation would relieve a dozen states of the difficulty of redistricting—including Pennsylvania, which is slated to lose three House seats.

In an interview, Pendleton intimated that he didn't bank much on a bill sponsored by Rep. Francis E. Walter, D-Pa., to add only four members to the House, to prevent the loss of congressional seats in old states because of the admission to the union of Alaska and Hawaii.

CORBETT BILL

And he said he could see no real grassroots support for a bill sponsored by Rep. Robert J. Corbett, R-Pa., to direct the census bureau to redistrict states that did not do the job for themselves in time for election of congressmen.

"None of us is really for the bill," said Pendleton. "Actually, it has too much cold, hard logic."

He said the same was true of Walter's bill, even though it would reduce Pennsylvania's task to eliminating only two congressional seats instead of the anticipated three under the 1960 census figures.

Should the Pennsylvania legislature fail to redistrict by next Feb. 20, as things stand now all 27 congressmen to be elected would have to run at-large.

HALT AT-LARGE ELECTION

The bills before the judiciary committee to add new house members are designed to avert such a possibility in Pennsylvania and elsewhere. Corbett's bill would relieve the individual states of the unsavory task of carving up their own districts should an impasse be reached within the state.

Congressmen should, Pendleton said, be elected from their own districts to maintain contact between their constituents and the national government.

In his testimony he emphasized the importance of such close contact with the people. For this reason, he said, congress should be enlarged rather than standing still. He said that with a rapidly growing population and increasing governmental problems the workload on the congressmen is becoming too great to maintain individual contacts with voters.

MRS. RALPH LONG
Hillcrest 7-2231

EMMITSBURG — Rev. James Twomey has returned to St. Joseph's Parish after spending his vacation with relatives and friends in Chelsea, Mass.

SAYS ATLANTA SURVIVED BIG SCHOOL TEST

ATLANTA (AP)—Heartened by praise from President Kennedy, Atlanta city and school officials believed today the critical period was over in the desegregation of four public high schools.

Mayor William B. Hartsfield said firmly the city has survived its most serious crisis.

But police continued elaborate security measures, ready to act promptly, as they did Wednesday, when five men were arrested near the schools. One of the men said he was a member of the Nazi party.

Inside the schools nine Negroes—six girls and three boys—attended classes and ate in the cafeterias, shattering Atlanta's century-old tradition of segregation.

IN INCIDENT

The persons most vitally concerned—the pupils and teachers—took the transition in stride, quietly and without incident.

Several of the Negroes said their reception was about what they would expect when entering any strange new school. All agreed they found no hostility or discourtesy among their schoolmates.

Several white pupils reported little attention was paid to the Negroes. Their general feeling was that no one was friendly but no one was particularly unfriendly.

By prearrangement the Negroes arrived a few minutes after the start of classes and left a little early. There were no mobs, no disorders—not even any shouting. "SALUTE TO ATLANTA"

About the time the schools were closing for the day, President Kennedy opened his news conference in Washington with a salute to Atlanta and Georgia citizens and officials for their "courage, tolerance and above all respect for the law."

L. J. O'Callaghan, president of the Atlanta Board of Education, said the successful outcome was largely due to the good work of the teachers. "I think what has happened is really remarkable," he said.

Gov. Ernest Vandiver reiterated his opposition to integration. But, he said, "I am grateful there has been no violence. Our fight will continue to be in the courts, not on the school grounds."

Area Marketing Agent

Holiday habits are more important than economic logic this weekend as homemakers prepare for the traditional Labor Day outings and perhaps the season's last outdoor barbecue. Retailers will cater to the public's interest by including the popular hamburgers, hot dogs and potato chips in their merchandising plans, observes Tom Piper, Penn State extension marketing agent.

Smoked picnics, smoked hams and sausages will join the vast array of table ready meats to be featured at economical prices this weekend. Small size turkeys and broiler-fryers remain in heavy supply and should prove economical. Beef will receive less promotional emphasis this week but steaks and boneless roasts are reasonably priced and may be considered as candidates for top spot on the menu.

Fresh fruits and vegetables from local growing areas are available at roadside stands, farmers markets and your favorite foodmarket. Homemakers desiring to can or freeze supplies for use this winter would do well to shop for peaches, prunes, plums, green beans, lima beans, beets, sweet corn and tomatoes now. Cabbage, potatoes, yellow onions, lettuce, peppers, carrots, celery and cucumbers belong on the list of good buys at this season of the year.

PEACH PEAK NEAR

The local peach harvest is nearing its peak. This popular fruit heads a list of seasonally abundant and reasonably priced items which includes summer apples, pears, prune-plums, cantaloupes, bananas and the honeydew, Casaba, Crenshaw and Persian melons. Supplies of grapes are on the increase.

This is the time of year when shoppers should price eggs by the pound rather than by the dozen to determine best value. Small eggs weigh 18 ounces to the dozen, mediums 21 ounces and large eggs 24 ounces. If a dozen small eggs costs 33 cents as many do now, then they only cost 29 cents a pound. At that rate, mediums should cost 36 cents a dozen and large 44 cents, but actually they are costing considerably more. This method will give cost-conscious shoppers a sound basis for making egg price comparisons and will reveal the smaller sizes to offer the most for the money now.

Pendleton Bill Would Add 34 House Seats To Relieve Redistricting Problems

By JOHN KOENIG Jr.
Associated Press Special Service
WASHINGTON (AP)—With the endorsement of the Pennsylvania State Republican committee, a GP committeeman from Montgomery county has urged congressional approval of a bill to add 34 new house members.
Philip C. Pendleton, Bryn Athyn attorney and former treasurer of the University of Pennsylvania, pointed out in testimony before the House Judiciary Committee that such legislation would relieve a dozen states of the difficulty of redistricting—including Pennsylvania, which is slated to lose three House seats.
In an interview, Pendleton intimated that he didn't bank much on a bill sponsored by Rep. Francis E. Walter, D-Pa., to add only four members to the House, to prevent the loss of congressional seats in old states because of the admission to the union of Alaska and Hawaii.
CORBETT BILL
And he said he could see no real grassroots support for a bill sponsored by Rep. Robert J. Corbett, R-Pa., to direct the census bureau to redistrict states that did not do the job for themselves in time for election of congressmen.
"None of us is really for the bill," said Pendleton. "Actually, it has too much cold, hard logic."
He said the same was true of Walter's bill, even though it would reduce Pennsylvania's task to eliminating only two congressional

FAMILY HOME CAN BE RICH IN MEMORIES

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP)—They were two women alone in a big old home that held long memories for both.

As they reached the front door, the daughter, a stout comfortable woman so deep in middle age her face bore no resentment of it, turned to the other.

"I know it's hard for you to leave, Mama," she said. "But Jim and I just couldn't stand the thought of you living any longer all by yourself in this old house."

HAPPIER WITH US
"We'd never be able to forgive ourselves if anything happened to you."

"You'll be happier with us. Truly you will. Jim loves you as much as he did his own mother."

The white-haired old lady smiled. She reached out a frail, blue-veined hand and patted her daughter comfortingly.

ONE LAST LOOK
"I realize it's for the best, Evelyn," said. "Why don't you go out and join Jim in the car? I'd like to take one more last look around just to be sure everything is right."

"That is such a nice young couple that's moving in. I wouldn't want them to find anything not in place."

Her daughter sighed and said: "All right, Mama. I understand. But don't be long. We have a long way to drive."

LAST GOODBY
After she had left, the old lady turned to say goodbye alone and in her own way to the home she had entered as a bride nearly 60 years before.

A hint of dusk darkened the soft summer air outdoors. But the old lady made no move to switch on the lights. The feeling of gathering twilight suited her mood.

The old lady wanted to go one by one through every room, but she felt it would be unfair to keep her daughter and son-in-law waiting. But there were three rooms she had to say farewell to.

PAUSES BRIEFLY
She paused briefly in the huge, high-ceilinged living room where the family had been warmed by hundreds of long winter evening fires.

Then she went out to the kitchen, where she had as a bride learned to cook on a wood-burning stove, and later bathed the children in bathtubs on the floor.

Still dry-eyed, she rested a moment with one hand on the worn walnut staircase before mounting to her bedroom. She stood silently by a great brightly gleaming old brass bedstead, the center of her life.

CHILDREN BORN
Here all her six children had been delivered. Here her first-born son, his eyes wide in wonder, had been strangled by diphtheria. Here she had brought her husband his last glass of water and he had died, still holding her hand.

The remembering tears came then into the old lady's eyes. She bent and patted pillows. Then she suddenly knelt and kissed the bedspread.

Outside Jim honked the car horn—not too impatiently.

WERE LUCKY
"You know we were lucky to find a young couple willing to rent a museum like your old home," he told his wife. "But they're fond of antiques and they liked all the places except one."

"What was that?" asked Evelyn.

"That old brass bedstead," said Jim.

"What do they plan to do with it?"

"Junk it," said Jim.

The old lady came out the door, carefully locked it, then walked down the front steps like a soldier smiling at a firing squad.

"I'm ready at last," she said. "Let's be on our way. Maybe we can still get home before it's too dark."

House Reverses Decision On Bill

HARRISBURG (AP)—A bill tightening payment of unemployment benefits to members of family owned businesses was approved by the House Tuesday night in a reversal of position.

The measure had been defeated Monday.

The House also passed a bill that would extend Civil Service coverage to college-educated professional employees of the state Highways Department and another bill that would permit railroads and steamship lines to sell liquor on Sundays in Pennsylvania.

The unemployment measure would exclude from benefits an individual who owned, or whose family owned, a majority share of any business employing three or less persons.

By G. MILTON KELLY

WASHINGTON (AP)—Senate crime investigators called race track figures from six states for questioning Wednesday, and sought to solve a lot of a silence two other witnesses.

Harry Gorman of Indianapolis, who described himself as a retired Indianapolis race wire operator, swore he had been threatened with death if he gave information to the Senate Investigations subcommittee.

The subcommittee also heard testimony that Frank W. Lyons, a Chicago race wire employee, tried to commit suicide Saturday because of threats.

SENATORS DRAW BLANK

Thus far the senators have drawn a blank in trying to identify the authors of the threats. They wouldn't say whether they were asking the FBI for help. Because Lyons and Gorman were under subpoena, attempts to intimidate them could bring felony punishment for obstruction of justice.

The subcommittee listed men from Illinois, Kentucky, Ohio, Pennsylvania, Missouri and Louisiana as witnesses in the hearings on big-time gambling. It presently is exploring the role of secret but legal race wire services as a bulwark of illegal hand-book betting on the horses.

NAME WITNESSES

Sen. John L. McClellan, D-Ark., subcommittee chairman, said the witnesses would include Martin Hillery of Chicago; Louis Ekman of the Louisville (Ky.) Daily

Sports; Robert C. Cullen, a Cincinnati, Ohio, operator; Stanley Schoemaker and Richard Busker of Newport, Ky.; Henry Crowley of Steubenville, Ohio, and Pittsburgh, Pa.; George Thurman of Louisville; William P. Brown of Richmond Heights, Mo.; and members of a New Orleans, La., race wire operation known as Nola News.

Downey Rice, a subcommittee consultant, testified that Nola News is a "Mafia type" operation.

Rice, a former FBI agent who was counsel to the Senate Crime Investigating Committee in 1950 and 1951, named Nola's three top figures as Joseph Marcello, Joseph Poretti and Ralph Emery. He said Emery is the son of Vincenzo Ammeratto, an Al Capone mobster who also was known as Vincent Emery.

MARCELLO ILL

Subcommittee officials said Marcello's brother, Carlos, has sent word he is too ill to respond to a subpoena already served on him. The government is trying to deport Carlos Marcello.

As Rice told it, the big race wire services generally use subsidiary companies which actually feed information on race winners, last-minute jockey switches and other track data to bookmakers. He described Nola as a subsidiary to the Illinois Sports Service in Chicago, and Illinois Sports Service as the successor to the old Continental Press Service. He said Continental faded out of existence after a bitter upheaval in the Chicago underworld in which at least one man was slain.

STORY OF THREAT

The story of the threatened witnesses came out when Thomas Kelly, Sr., head of Illinois Sports Service, refused to answer when asked if he had harassed Lyons to the point that Lyons took an overdose of sleeping pills Saturday. Lyons is in a hospital now. Whether er he will testify in the hearings later has not been decided. Gorman, the former race wire operator, swore that anonymous telephone callers, learning he had been subpoenaed, threatened him in vile language with death if he testified.

Police Sgt. Morris English of Arlington Heights, Ill., a Chicago suburb, testified Mrs. Lyons told him her husband also had been threatened in an effort to induce him to invoke the Fifth Amendment in the hearings.

English said she named no one as having uttered the threats. He said she told him her husband wanted to testify but was afraid to, that he figured suicide "was the best way out."

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Senate Wednesday confirmed William F. Smith of New Jersey to be a judge of the U.S. 3rd Circuit Court of Appeals and Michael H. Sheridan to be a U.S. district judge for the Middle District of Pennsylvania.

FAMILY HOME CAN BE RICH IN MEMORIES

By HAL BOYLE
NEW YORK (AP)—They were two women alone in a big old home that held long memories for both.

As they reached the front door, the daughter, a stout comfortable woman so deep in middle age her face bore no resentment of it, turned to the other.

"I know it's hard for you to leave Mama," she said. "But Jim and I just couldn't stand the thought of you living any longer all by yourself in this old house."

HAPPIER WITH US

"We'd never be able to forgive ourselves if anything happened to you."

"You'll be happier with us. Truly you will. Jim loves you as much as he did his own mother."

ONE LAST LOOK

"I realize it's for the best. Evelyn," said. "Why don't you go on out and join Jim in the car? I'd like to take one more last look around just to be sure everything is right."

"That is such a nice young couple that's moving in. I wouldn't want them to find anything not in place."

Her daughter sighed and said: "All right, Mama. I understand. But don't be long. We have a long way to drive."

LAST GOODBY

After she had left the old lady turned to say goodbye alone and in her own way to the home she had entered as a bride nearly 60 years before.

A hint of dusk darkened the soft summer air outdoors. But the old lady made no move to switch on the lights. The feeling of gathering twilight suited her mood.

The old lady wanted to go one by one through every room, but she felt it would be unfair to keep her daughter and son-in-law waiting. But there were three rooms she had to say farewell to.

PAUSES BRIEFLY

She paused briefly in the huge, high-ceilinged living room where the family had been warmed by hundreds of long winter evening fires.

Then she went out to the kitchen where she had as a bride learned to cook on a wood-burning stove and later bathed the children in the bathtub on the floor.

And dry-eyed she rested a moment in one of the worn, velvet staircases before mounting to her bedroom. She stood silently by a great brightly gleaming old brass bedstead, the center of her life.

CHILDREN BORN

Here all her six children had been delivered. Here her first-born son, his eyes wide in wonder, had been strangled by diphtheria. Here she had brought her husband his last glass of water and he had died, still holding her hand.

The remembering tears came then into the old lady's eyes. She bent and patted pillows. Then she suddenly knelt and kissed the bedspread.

"Goodbye," she whispered. Outside Jim honked the car horn—not too impatiently.

WERE LUCKY

"You know we were lucky to find a young couple willing to rent a museum like your old home," he told his wife. "But they're fond of antiques and they liked all the pieces except one."

"What was that?" asked Evelyn.

"That old brass bedstead," said Jim.

"What do they plan to do with it?"

"Junk it," said Jim.

The old lady came out the door carefully locked it then walked down the front steps like a soldier smiling at a firing squad.

"I'm ready at last," she said. "Let's be on our way. Maybe we can still get home before it's too dark."

House Reverses Decision On Bill

HARRISBURG (AP)—A bill tightening payment of unemployment benefits to members of family owned businesses was approved by the House Tuesday night in a reversal of position.

The measure had been defeated Monday.

The House also passed a bill that would extend Civil Service coverage to college-educated professional employees of the state Highways Department and another bill that would permit railroads and steamship lines to sell liquor on Sundays in Pennsylvania.

The unemployment measure would exclude from benefits an individual who owned, or whose family owned, a majority share of any business employing three or less persons.

By G. MILTON KELLY

WASHINGTON (AP)—Senate crime investigators called race track figures from six states for questioning Wednesday, and sought to solve a lot top a silence two other witnesses.

Harry Gorman of Indianapolis, who described himself as a retired Indianapolis race wire operator, swore he had been threatened with death if he gave information to the Senate Investigations subcommittee.

The subcommittee also heard testimony that Frank W. Lyons, a Chicago race wire employee, tried to commit suicide Saturday because of threats. SENATORS DRAW BLANK

Thus far the senators have drawn a blank in trying to identify the authors of the threats. They wouldn't say whether they were asking the FBI for help. Because Lyons and Gorman were under subpoena, attempts to intimidate them could bring felony punishment for obstruction of justice.

The subcommittee listed men from Illinois, Kentucky, Ohio, Pennsylvania, Missouri and Louisiana as witnesses in the hearings on big-time gambling. It presently is exploring the role of secret but legal race wire services as a bulwark of illegal hand-book betting on the horses.

NAME WITNESSES

Sen. John L. McClellan, D-Ark., subcommittee chairman, said the witnesses would include Martin Hillery of Chicago; Louis Ekke, man of the Louisville (Ky.) Daily

Sports; Robert C. Cullen, a Cincinnati, Ohio, operator; Stanley Schoemaker and Richard Busker of Newport, Ky.; Henry Crowley of Steubenville, Ohio, and Pittsburgh, Pa.; George Thurman of Louisville; William P. Brown of Richmond Heights, Mo.; and members of a New Orleans, La., race wire operation known as Nola News.

Downey Rice, a subcommittee consultant, testified that Nola News is a "Mafia type" operation.

Rice, a former FBI agent who was counsel to the Senate Crime Investigating Committee in 1950 and 1951, named Nola's three top figures as Joseph Marcello, Joseph Poretto and Ralph Emery. He said Emery is the son of Vincenzo Ammeratto, an Al Capone mobster who also was known as Vincent Emery.

MARCELLO ILL

Subcommittee officials said Marcello's brother, Carlos, has sent word he is too ill to respond to a subpoena already served on him. The government is trying to deport Carlos Marcello.

As Rice told it, the big race wire services generally use subsidiary companies which actually feed information on race winners, last-minute jockey switches and other track data to bookmakers. He described Nola as a subsidiary to the Illinois Sports Service in Chicago, and Illinois Sports Service as the successor to the old Continental Press Service. He said Continental faded out of existence after a bitter upheaval in the Chicago underworld in which at least one man was slain.

STORY OF THREAT

The story of the threatened witnesses came out when Thomas Kelly, Sr., head of Illinois Sports Service, refused to answer when asked if he had harassed Lyons to the point that Lyons took an overdose of sleeping pills Saturday. Lyons is in a hospital now. Whether he will testify in the hearings later has not been decided.

Gorman, the former race wire operator, swore that anonymous telephone callers, learning he had been subpoenaed, threatened him in vile language with death if he testified.

Police Sgt. Morris English of Arlington Heights, Ill., a Chicago suburb, testified Mrs. Lyons told him her husband also had been threatened in an effort to induce him to invoke the Fifth Amendment in the hearings.

English said she named no one as having uttered the threats. He said she told him her husband wanted to testify but was afraid to, that he figured suicide "was the best way out."

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Senate Wednesday confirmed William F. Smith of New Jersey to be a judge of the U.S. 3rd Circuit Court of Appeals and Michael H. Sheridan to be a U.S. district judge for the Middle District of Pennsylvania.

Eisenhower, Nation's Greatest Vote Getter, Misses, In Retirement, Direct Contact With Unfolding Of History

EDITOR'S NOTE — When a man has held the biggest job in the world for eight years, retirement is not without its problems. But Dwight D. Eisenhower has come to terms with them in the peaceful setting of his Gettysburg home. Here's the former President, caught life-size in an intimate portrait.

By SAUL PETT
AP Newsfeatures Writer

One of the rarest emotions in the world — only 34 men have known it — is to wake up one morning and realize you are now President of the United States.

Even rarer and as full of impact — fewer men have known this feeling — is to wake up one morning and realize you are no longer President of the United States.

Suddenly it is over. Suddenly it is Jan. 20 and you are riding down Pennsylvania Avenue with the new man and they swear him in and they say goodbye and you're gone. Suddenly you're supposed to pick up your life. How does it feel?

"PAY LOAD IS GONE"

It feels, William Howard Taft once said, "like a giant locomotive pulling a toy wagon." The momentum remains. The pay load is gone.

For seven months, Dwight David Eisenhower has been gearing down, seeking a new rhythm. He is not, of course, a lonely old man turned out and forgotten in a distant pasture. He remains very much in demand, active, productive and interested. Politically, in the phrase of a former associate, he is still "the Fort Knox of the Republican Party."

But the big job is gone and that takes adjustment.

Like other men in retirement, he both enjoys the absence of heavy responsibility and at the same time misses it. After 20 years of vast power and glory in the main current of great events, the human system does not suddenly adapt to a beach chair, however comfortable.

"OLD FRIENDS WRITING"

While he still corresponds with Harold Macmillan and Charles de Gaulle and other important people around the world, the correspondence now has a single tone — old friends writing. It lacks the office behind the man.

While he still retains a deep interest in national and world affairs, Dwight D. Eisenhower has had to learn to sublimate his lack of authority. This is one way he does it:

Reading of some new national issue or problem, he picks up the phone and calls several friends, usually experts in the appropriate field. To each, he represents the problem and asks what the other fellow would do about it. And then they match judgments and seek an accommodation and decide, if they can, on a solution and then they hang up.

"A DRY RUN"

That's as far as it can go. It's a dry run, poker for match sticks.

An old Eisenhower friend in Wall Street, who used to be summoned frequently to the White House, recently received four letters from the former President in one day. Only one letter concerned a subject on which either could act. The others were typified by one which said: "Have you seen this editorial on the . . . problem? Here it is. Please give me your comments." Even in retirement, the Eisenhower staff system still operates.

In Gettysburg recently, Gen.

Eisenhower held a reunion with most of his former cabinet. It began as one would expect it to begin, with an exchange of pleasantries, reminiscences and an effort by old associates to catch up.

DISCUSS BIG ISSUES

But before anyone quite realized it, the reunion began to resemble a meeting of a President and a cabinet still in office. The general had brought up assorted national problems and was going down the table soliciting the views of each man there, and for a time Jan. 20 hadn't arrived.

Dwight Eisenhower misses the big job in many ways. He misses the power and ability to affect events which deeply concern him. He misses the direct contact with unfolding history. He misses the vast convenience of the office, the huge machinery geared to his wishes, the experts who kept him informed, the planes that flew him, the Secret Service men who cleared his path.

IS WIDELY LOVED

But the shock of transition from the White House to the farm house in Gettysburg has, friends agree, been heavily cushioned by one fact. He left Washington trailed by the affection of his countrymen. He had his critics. His country had refused to elect the man he hoped would succeed him. His own place in history is still to be weighed. But he, himself, remains widely loved and, on the record books, the biggest vote getter of all time. This is a comforting annuity in retirement.

Also, he was surprised to find that out of office there was still a great demand for Eisenhower. More people than he can ever want to see him, talk with him, get his advice, seek his help, get him to speak or pose just once for a picture with a man running

Sergeant And Wife End Housekeeping

SAN JOSE, Calif. (AP)—Mrs. Stanley Hardman, 35, was granted a divorce after complaining that her police sergeant husband bawled her out if she didn't bring him coffee right away when he rang a bell.

Alice Hardman said the sergeant kept the bell at the head of his bed.

Judge W. W. Jaoka awarded her the family house, $1 a month alimony and $50 a month each for three children.

Sgt. Hardman was awarded one frying pan, one saucepan and—the coffee pot.

Harney

HARNEY — The Sunday School or worship services will be held Sunday at St. Paul's Lutheran Church, Rev. Charles E. Held, pastor, announced.

There will be worship service at the EUB Church Sunday, Rev. A. W. Garvin, pastor, announced. The St. Paul's Sunday School bus trip to Philadelphia will be held Saturday with the bus leaving at 5:30 a.m.

The Harney baseball team will play an old-timers team Sunday at the Harney field.

Mr. and Mrs. Gerald Brison, William and Diana, Mrs. Hazel Brison and son, Earl, and Miss Delores Helsel, Altoona; Mr. and Mrs. Frank Blyer, Steelton; John Radel, Harrisburg, and Mr. and Mrs. John Staub, Littlestown, visited Sunday at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Angell.

Mr. and Mrs. Nevin Ridinger, Mrs. Edna Snider, John Ridinger and son, John, visited Sunday at Arlington Village, Va., with Mr. and Mrs. Nevin Ridinger's daughter and family, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Varner and Elizabeth Marie.

REGRETTED NIXON DEFEAT

In retirement, he remains a Republican mecca. From the Halls of Congress to the smallest precinct, they still come, or try to come, in the hope of taking back with them a little reflected glow.

Gen. Eisenhower had expected little of this. He had thought Richard M. Nixon would now be President, that the Eisenhower philosophy of government would be relatively safe, that the party and the country would have little need of him in retirement.

"He felt Nixon defeat deeply," said a former cabinet member. "He feels strongly that his philosophy of government was erroneously repudiated by the people. But he doesn't feel that for him the game is over. He is now more alive and alert politically than ever before."

SLUG POLITICALLY

"In all his eight years, he never fully understood or appreciated that the President was also the head of his party. Now, out of office which he so exalted, he feels free to slug politically. In a sense, he will be fighting for his own place in history."

The former President already has delivered several free-swinging speeches attacking the domestic policies of the Kennedy administration. He will deliver more.

Also, he has certain constitutional amendments in mind along with a plan for reorganizing some of the top echelons of government. When he makes these ideas public, he will be back in the arena in a real sense and not merely on the telephone in a hypothetical discussion with old associates now powerless to act.

IS EARLY RISER

Amid these larger concerns, a man lives day to day.

Like many other men of 70, like the retired school principal and the shop foreman who has just been given a gold watch, Dwight David Eisenhower clings to the pattern of his past. He still rises early and arrived about eight in his carpeted office, in the handsome brick building that used to house the president of Gettysburg College.

Getting there, he is driven, or sometimes takes the wheel himself now that he has passed the driver's test (a man who has been a general more than two decades must learn all over again) through the dappled shade and past the black cannon of Confederate Avenue. This was the line from which Pickett's Charge was launched in the Battle of Gettysburg, a skirmish compared to the invasion of Normandy.

"DUAL CELEBRITY"

Along a route he once studied as a cadet in West Point, he passes souvenir shops which feature Eisenhower dishes and penants and post cards as much as they do Lee and Lincoln. Gettysburg is now a town of dual celebrity. The sightseers who stop at the Presbyterian Church to see where Lincoln once worshiped also drop back a few rows to see where Gen. Eisenhower worships today.

The tourists clot around the front gate of the Eisenhower farm. On the rare occasions he uses it, they sing out "Hi, Ike," and, with an American possessiveness that can be both moving and irritating, move in for autographs and pictures. They climb the Battlefield towers and fly the sightseeing helicopter to gawk at his home and, if this occasionally annoys the general of the Army in residence, he resists the temptation to call up an anti-aircraft battery.

Eisenhower, Nation's Greatest Vote Getter, Misses, In Retirement, Direct Contact With Unfolding Of History

EDITOR'S NOTE — When a man has held the biggest job in the world for eight years, retirement is not without its problems. But Dwight D. Eisenhower has come to terms with them in the peaceful setting of his Gettysburg home. Here's the former President, caught life-size in an intimate portrait.

By SAUL PETT
AP Newsfeatures Writer

One of the rarest emotions in the world — only 34 men have known it — is to wake up one morning and realize you are now President of the United States.

Even rarer and as full of impact — fewer men have known this feeling — is to wake up one morning and realize you are no longer President of the United States.

Suddenly it is over. Suddenly it is Jan. 20 and you are riding down Pennsylvania Avenue with the new man and they swear him in and they say goodbye and you're gone. Suddenly you're supposed to pick up your life. How does it feel?

"PAY LOAD IS GONE"

It feels, William Howard Taft once said, "like a giant locomotive pulling a toy wagon." The momentum remains. The pay load is gone.

For seven months Dwight David Eisenhower has been gearing down, seeking a new rhythm. He is not, of course, a lonely old man turned out and forgotten in a distant pasture. He remains very much in demand active, productive and interested. Politically, in the phrase of a former associate, he is still "the Fort Knox of the Republican Party."

But the big job is gone and that takes adjustment.

Like other men in retirement, he both enjoys the absence of heavy responsibility and at the same time misses it. After 20 years of vast power and glory in the main current of great events, the human system does not suddenly adapt to a beach chair, however comfortable.

"OLD FRIENDS WRITING"

While he still corresponds with Harold Macmillan and Charles de Gaulle and other important people around the world, the correspondence now has a single tone — old friends writing. It lacks the office behind the man.

While he still retains a deep interest in national and world affairs, Dwight D. Eisenhower has had to learn to sublimate his lack of authority. This is one way he does it.

Reading of some new national issue or problem, he picks up the phone and calls several friends, usually experts in the appropriate field. To each, he represents the problem and asks what the other fellow would do about it. And then they match judgments and seek an accommodation and decide, if they can, on a solution and then they hang up.

"A DRY RUN"

That's as far as it can go. It's a dry run, poker for match sticks.

An old Eisenhower friend in Wall Street, who used to be summoned frequently to the White House, recently received four letters from the former President in one day. Only one letter concerned a subject on which either could act. The others were typified by one which said: "Have you seen this editorial on the ... problem? Here it is. Please give me your comments." Even in retirement, the Eisenhower staff system still operates.

Eisenhower held a reunion with most of his former cabinet. It began as one would expect it to begin, with an exchange of pleasantries, reminiscences and an effort by old associates to catch up.

DISCUSS BIG ISSUES

But before anyone quite realized it, the reunion began to resemble a meeting of a President and a cabinet still in office. The general had brought up assorted national problems and was going down the table soliciting the views of each man there, and for a time Jan. 20 hadn't arrived.

Dwight Eisenhower misses the big job in many ways. He misses the power and ability to affect events which deeply concern him. He misses the direct contact with unfolding history. He misses the vast convenience of the office, the huge machinery geared to his wishes, the experts who kept him informed, the planes that flew him, the Secret Service men who cleared his path.

IS WIDELY LOVED

But the shock of transition from the White House to the farm house in Gettysburg has, friends agree, been heavily cushioned by one fact, he left Washington trailed by the affection of his countrymen. He had his critics. His country had refused to elect the man he hoped would succeed him. His own place in history is still to be weighed. But he, himself, remains widely loved and on the record books, the biggest vote getter of all time. This is a comforting annuity in retirement. Also, he was surprised to find that out of office there was still a great demand for Eisenhower. More people than he can ever see want to see him talk with him, get his advice, seek his help, get him to speak or pose just once for a picture with a man running

Sergeant And Wife End Housekeeping

SAN JOSE, Calif. (AP)—Mrs. Stanley Hardman, 35, was granted a divorce after complaining that her police sergeant husband bawled her out if she didn't bring him coffee right away when he rang a bell.

Alice Hardman said the sergeant kept the bell at the head of his bed.

Judge W. W. Jao awarded her the family house and a month's alimony and $50 a month each for three children.

Sgt. Hardman was awarded one frying pan, one saucepan and the coffee pot.

There will be worship service at the EUB Church Sunday, Rev. A. W. Garvin, pastor, announced. The St. Paul's Sunday School wishes the Philadelphia will be held Saturday with the bus leaving at 5:30 a.m.

The Harney baseball team will play an old-timers team Sunday at the Harney field.

Mr. and Mrs. Gerald Brison, William and Diana, Mrs. Hazel Brison and son, Earl, and Miss Delores Helsel, Altoona; Mr. and Mrs. Frank Blyer, Steelton; John Radel, Harrisburg, and Mr. and Mrs. John Staub, Littlestown, visited Sunday at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Angell.

Mr. and Mrs. Nevin Ridinger, Mr. Edna Smider, John Ridinger and son, John, visited Sunday at Arlington Village, Va., with Mr. and Mrs. Nevin Ridinger's daughter and family, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Varner and Elizabeth Marie.

REGRETTED NIXON DEFEAT

In retirement, he remains a Republican mecca. From the Halls of Congress to the smallest precinct, they still come, or try to come, in the hope of taking back with them a little reflected glow. Gen. Eisenhower had expected little of this. He had thought Richard M. Nixon would now be President, that the Eisenhower philosophy of government would be relatively safe, that the party and the country would have little need of him in retirement.

"He felt Nixon's defeat deeply," said a former cabinet member. "He feels strongly that his philosophy of government was erroneously repudiated by the people. But he doesn't feel that for him the game is over. He is now more alive and alert politically than ever before."

SLUG POLITICALLY

"In all his eight years, he never fully understood or appreciated that the President was also the head of his party. Now, out of office which he so exalted, he feels free to slug politically. In a sense, he will be fighting for his own place in history."

The former President already has delivered several free-swinging speeches attacking the domestic policies of the Kennedy administration. He will deliver more.

Also he has certain constitutional amendments in mind along with a plan for reorganizing some of the top echelons of government. When he makes these ideas public, he will be back in the arena in a real sense and not merely on the telephone in a hypothetical discussion with old associates now powerless to act.

IS EARLY RISER

Amid these larger concerns, a man lives day to day. Like many other men of 70, like the retired school principal and the shop foreman who has just been given a gold watch, Dwight David Eisenhower clings to the pattern of his past. He still rises early and arrived about eight in his carpeted office, in the handsome brick building that used to house the president of Gettysburg College.

Getting there, he is driven, or sometimes takes the wheel himself now that he has passed the driver's test (a man who has been a general more than two decades must learn all over again) through the dappled shade and past the black cannon of Confederate Avenue. This was the line from which Pickett's Charge was launched in the Battle of Gettysburg a skirmish compared to the invasion of Normandy.

"DUAL CELEBRITY"

Along a route he once studied as a cadet in West Point, he passes souvenir shops which feature Eisenhower dishes and pennants and post cards as much as they do Lee and Lincoln. Gettysburg is now a town of dual celebrity. The sightseers who stop at the Presbyterian Church to see where Lincoln once worshiped also drop back a few rows to see where Gen. Eisenhower worships today.

The tourists clot around the front gate of the Eisenhower farm. On the rare occasions he uses it, they sing out, "Hi, Ike," and with an American possessiveness that can be both moving and irritating, move in for autographs and pictures. They climb the Battlefield towers and fly the sightseeing helicopter to gawk at his home and, if this occasionally annoys the general of the Army in residence, he resists the temptation to call up an antiaircraft battery.

ACTOR COBURN DIES SUDDENLY ON WEDNESDAY

By ANDREW MEISELS

NEW YORK (AP)—Veteran actor Charles Coburn, whose distinguished face, gruff voice and ready wit were familiar to audiences for more than half a century, is dead at 84.

Coburn died of heart failure at Lenox Hill Hospital Wednesday, shortly after undergoing minor throat surgery. He had entered the hospital Monday for a check-up.

An energetic man more active than many half his age, Coburn came here after completing a 6-day run only Sunday night in an Indianapolis production of "You Can't Take It With You." The play drew the largest audiences in the Avondale Playhouse's 8-year history.

STAGE HIS LIFE

The stage performance was the last for a man who found his calling, his first success and the great love of his life on the stage.

He began a movie career at the age of 60 and also appeared on radio and television, but he never lost his great devotion to the live theater, and he felt it was the only true training ground for actors.

He left a full-time career on the stage for the screen in 1937, on the death of his first wife, the former Ivah Wills. He had met her in 1905 while playing Orlando to her Rosalind in a touring company's production of "As You Like It."

LOVE LEGEND

Thereafter, the two became a theatrical love legend. Her death came as a great blow to Coburn, and he did not remarry until 22 years later when, in a Las Vegas ceremony he wed Winifred Jean Clements Natzka, a widow exactly half his age. She was with him at his death.

Coburn's versatility as an actor was as polished as the monochrome he wore to combat astigmatism, and the dignity he brought to his craft was as real as his ever-present cigar.

Charles Douville Coburn was born in Macon, Ga., on June 19, 1877. He began his career at 14 as a program boy in the famous old Savannah Theater and became the theater's manager three years later. At the age of 19, he came to New York, doing odd jobs to support himself until a Broadway opportunity came along.

"SPORTY OLD GENT"

In later years, Coburn was most often seen in films as a sporty old gent with a roving eye for the ladies and a tongue fast with quips.

In 1943, he won an Academy award for a supporting role in "The More the Merrier." He also received award nominations for roles in "The Devil and Miss Jones" (1941) and "The Green Years" (1946).

GAS EXPLOSION SENDS 11 MEN TO HOSPITAL

PITTSBURGH (AP)—A natural gas leak touched off an explosion and flash fire at the nearby Irvin Works of U. S. Steel Corp. early today, injuring 11 men. Five were hospitalized.

A company spokesman said the leak caused an accumulation of gas which exploded as the furnace was being relighted in the plant's No. 1 sheet temper mill. There was no damage estimate.

One of the injured, Charles Overstake, 38, of Liberty, told a fireman:

"It was a gas leak. I had my back to it and the next thing I heard was a loud bang and my clothes were all afire. I ripped off all my clothes and ripped off the clothes of my buddy, Frank Walker."

EXTINGUISHED IN MINUTES

Overstake, Walker, 48, of Elizabeth, and three others were treated at the plant's hospital and then taken to West Penn Hospital. Their condition was unknown. Six other men were treated at the plant's hospital and released.

The other three men in the hospital are Donald Elliott, 40, of Keesport; Frank Amedeo, 32, of Gordon Kirkman, both of Clairton.

The spokesman said the blaze was extinguished in a matter of minutes by firemen from the plant and neighboring communities. He said the temper mill will be shut down for a time, but that the overall operation of the works will not be greatly affected.

The furnace was being relighted, he said, to heat the rollers so they would expand before rolling the steel into sheets.

RULES STATE CANNOT CLOSE SOME SCHOOLS

NEW ORLEANS, La. (AP) — The St. Helena decision won't stop Louisiana from carrying out its private school plan, but the state's grant-in-aid program may have to be revamped.

This was the opinion of two key state segregation leaders today after a three-judge federal court struck down Louisiana's local option school closing law, ruling Wednesday that the state cannot close some schools and keep others open.

It issued a temporary restraining order forbidding St. Helena Parish (County) from abandoning its public schools.

Rural St. Helena—some 60 miles north of New Orleans—voted overwhelmingly this summer to authorize school closing rather than accept integration. Some 1,400 white voters were registered and just over 100 Negroes.

"ONLY CATS VOTE"

"This sort of election," said the court, "is like having only the cats vote on a program for kittens and young mice."

Chairman Frank Voelker Jr. of the State Sovereignty Commission said the court's decision was, in part, "inaccurate, misleading and highly irritating."

But, he said, grants-in-aid are apparently entirely legal so long as public schools are not closed.

"They are not closed in Louisiana and the state is making no effort to close them," Voelker said. "I do feel, however, our present grant-in-aid program needs considerable revision."

Louisiana has set up machinery to permit students to accept tuition grants to go to private segregated schools rather than to integrated schools.

SET NO DATES

Integration has been ordered in St. Helena and East Baton Rouge parishes, but no dates have been set.

State Sen. E. W. Gravolet Jr., the vice chairman of the Sovereignty Commission, called for an immediate statewide program of grants-in-aid. Though an enabling law has been passed, the state has not implemented it.

The federal judges — all from New Orleans—ruled the state local option law violated the 14th Amendment's equal protection clause.

Briefs

HARRISBURG (AP)—Joseph L. Hayden Jr. of State College will take over on Sept. 18 as the new superintendent of French Creek state park in Berks and Chester counties.

Hayden was named to the $5,804 a year post Wednesday by the State Forests and Waters department. Currently he is with Pennsylvania State university's Agriculture Extension service.

HARRISBURG (AP)—A $10,000 appropriation for the Pennsylvania State university School of Forestry was approved Wednesday night by the House, 199-0. The measure was sent to the Senate for further action. The money would be spent for research on diseases of maple trees.

HARRISBURG (AP) — Gov. Lawrence's signature was all that was needed today to authorize an $80,000 appropriation to set up a new pension fund for blind war veterans.

The House-approved measure was passed unanimously by the Senate Wednesday night.

WASHINGTON (AP) — Pennsylvania congressmen voted almost strictly on party lines Wednesday as the House refused to consider the administration's aid to education bill. All 14 Pennsylvania Democrats voted to consider the measure, as did Republican Rep. Willard Curtin. Fourteen Republicans voted against consideration and another party member, Rep. William Milliken, was listed as absent or not voting.

PITTSBURGH (AP)—The body of Raymond Asbury, 9, of suburban Penn Hills was found in the Allegheny River at Shades Run Wednesday. Friends reported that the boy disappeared while wading in the river Monday.

KITTANNING, Pa. (AP)—Mrs. Bonnie S. Boats, 29, of New Bethlehem, Clarion County, died in Armstrong County Memorial Hospital Wednesday of injuries suffered in a collision of her auto and a truck.

State police said truck driver Norman D. Klingensmith, 36, of New Kensington, escaped injury in the crash Tuesday on Route 66 about 12 miles north of Kittanning.

Heavyweight champion Floyd Patterson earned $75 in his first professional fight in 1952. In his fourth and final bout that year his purse was $1,500.

2,635,000 TO BE ENROLLED IN PA. SCHOOLS

By HERB LINNEN

HARRISBURG (AP)—A record 2,635,000 children will be enrolled in Pennsylvania schools at the start of the fall term next week, the Department of Public Instruction reported today.

The total included 1,675,750 pupils in grade schools and 959,250 in high schools. It is 3.3 per cent higher than last year, said Carl D. Mornewick, head of DPI's Bureau of Research.

In addition, Pennsylvania will have 179,800 full-time students enrolled in colleges and universities. There will be 67,300 more persons enrolled as part-time college students, Mornewick said.

Mornewick gave the following breakdown of enrollment figures:

Elementary Schools—Public, 1,163,450 and nonpublic, 512,300, for a total of 1,675,750.

High Schools — Public, 828,150, and nonpublic, 131,100, for a total of 959,250.

He estimated that the college enrollment of full-time students would hit 114,300. An additional 25,500 full-time students will be enrolled at the 14 state colleges.

The part-time student enrollments were estimated to be 65,000 in the colleges and universities, and 2,300 in the state colleges.

A breakdown for individual state colleges—formerly called state teachers colleges—won't be available until later, Mornewick said.

TOKYO (AP) — Communist China today came out with firm backing of the Soviet Union's decision to resume nuclear weapons tests.

"The government of the People's Republic of China today issued a statement supporting the Soviet government's decision to conduct experimental explosions of nuclear weapons in the interests of the defense of world peace," the New China News Agency said in a dispatch from Peking.

It was the Red Chinese government "resolutely supports this important step."

RULES STATE CANNOT CLOSE SOME SCHOOLS

NEW ORLEANS, La. (AP) — The St. Helena decision won't stop Louisiana from carrying out its private school plan, but the state's grant-in-aid program may have to be revamped.

This was the opinion of two key state segregation leaders today after a three-judge federal court struck down Louisiana's local option school closing law, ruling Wednesday that the state cannot close some schools and keep others open.

It issued a temporary restraining order forbidding St. Helena Parish (County) from abandoning its public schools.

Rural St. Helena—some 60 miles north of New Orleans—voted overwhelmingly this summer to authorize school closing rather than accept integration. Some 1,400 white voters were registered and just over 100 Negroes.

"ONLY CATS VOTE"

"This sort of election," said the court "is like having only the cats vote on a program for kittens and young mice."

Chairman Frank Voelker Jr. of the State Sovereignty Commission said the court's decision was, in part, "inaccurate, misleading and highly irritating."

But, he said, grants-in-aid are apparently entirely legal so long as public schools are not closed.

"They are not closed in Louisiana and the state is making no effort to close them," Voelker said. "I do feel, however, our present grant-in-aid program needs considerable revision."

Louisiana has set up machinery to permit students to accept tuition grants to go to private segregated schools rather than to integrated schools.

SET NO DATES

Integration has been ordered in St. Helena and East Baton Rouge parishes, but no dates have been set.

State Sen. E. W. Gravolet Jr., the vice chairman of the Sovereignty Commission, called for an immediate statewide program of grants-in-aid. Though an enabling law has been passed, the state has not implemented it.

The federal judges — all from New Orleans—ruled the state local option law violated the 14th Amendment's equal protection clause.

Briefs

HARRISBURG (AP)—Joseph L. Hayden Jr. of State College will take over on Sept. 18 as the new superintendent of French Creek state park in Berks and Chester counties.

Hayden was named to the $5,804 a year post Wednesday by the State Forests and Waters department. Currently he is with Pennsylvania State university's Agriculture Extension service.

HARRISBURG (AP)—A $10,000 appropriation for the Pennsylvania State university School of Forestry was approved Wednesday night by the House, 199-0. The measure was sent to the Senate for further action. The money would be spent for research on diseases of maple trees.

HARRISBURG (AP) — Gov. Lawrence's signature was all that was needed today to authorize an $80,000 appropriation to set up a new pension fund for blind war veterans.

The House-approved measure was passed unanimously by the Senate Wednesday night.

WASHINGTON (AP) — Pennsylvania congressmen voted almost strictly on party lines Wednesday as the House refused to consider the administration's aid to education bill. All 14 Pennsylvania Democrats voted to consider the measure, as did Republican Rep. Willard Curtin. Fourteen Republicans voted against consideration and another party member, Rep. William Milliken, was listed as absent or not voting.

PITTSBURGH (AP)—The body of Raymond Asbury, 9, of suburban Penn Hills was found in the Allegheny River at Shades Run Wednesday. Friends reported that the boy disappeared while wading in the river Monday.

KITTANNING, Pa. (AP)—Mrs. Bonnie S. Boarts, 29, of New Bethlehem, Clarion County, died in Armstrong County Memorial Hospital Wednesday of injuries suffered in a collision of her auto and a truck.

State police said truck driver Norman D. Klingensmith, 36, of New Kensington, escaped injury in the crash Tuesday on Route 66 about 12 miles north of Kittanning.

Heavyweight champion Floyd Patterson earned $75 in his first professional fight in 1952. In his fourth and final bout that year his purse was $1,500.

2,635,000 TO BE ENROLLED IN PA. SCHOOLS

By HERB LINNEN

HARRISBURG (AP)—A record 2,635,000 children will be enrolled in Pennsylvania schools at the start of the fall term next week, the Department of Public Instruction reported today.

The total included 1,675,750 pupils in grade schools and 959,250 in high schools. It is 3.3 per cent higher than last year, said Carl D. Mornewick, head of DPI's Bureau of Research.

In addition, Pennsylvania will have 179,800 full-time students enrolled in colleges and universities. There will be 67,300 more persons enrolled as part-time college students, Mornewick said.

Mornewick gave the following breakdown of enrollment figures: Elementary Schools—Public, 1,163,450 and nonpublic, 512,300, for a total of 1,675,750.

High Schools — Public, 828,150, and nonpublic, 131,100, for a total of 959,250.

He estimated that the college enrollment of full-time students would hit 154,300. An additional 25,500 full-time students will be enrolled at the 14 state colleges.

The part-time student enrollments were estimated to be 65,000 in the colleges and universities, and 2,300 in the state colleges.

A breakdown for individual state colleges—formerly called state teachers colleges—won't be available until later, Mornewick said.
